COMMANDER SAYS LEGION IS FOR PEACE

MacNider Voices Appreciation of Marshal Foch.

HOPES TO BRING ALL NATIONS TOGETHER

Says Body Is Pledged To Battle for Principles for Which Buddies Died.

[Editor's Note—Hanford MacNider, head of the American legion, while voicing an appreciation of the late ditsinguished visitor, Marshal Foch, also gives an outline of what the American legion hopes for the future and most significant is the strong note expressing hope for an eternal peace.]

[BY HANFORD MacNIDER.]

"It is not things I want to see, it is the men, women and children, especially the children for there lies the future of America." This statement characterized the marshals visit to America, where he came to pay his respects to the men who served under him and to the great American nation, in which is mixed the blood of every country in the world. He wanted to see the American people in times of peace and as a great soldier who hates war to promote a real and just peace which will make future wars impossible. The great marshal represents to us not only his own country, but every allied country whose armies fought under his command.

It was France, Great Britain, Belgium, Italy and our allies who, fighting for their very existence held back the enemy while we, unprepared, strove to build our armies that we too might do our duty to civilization, and they are grateful and they do not forget that we did add the men and ships and material which, inspired by the leadership of the great marshal, made victory possible.

The very presence of this man who commanded the greatest armies in history, those of our own men among them, did more to inspire the American people and to bind together the great friendship of the allies than could have been accomplished by any international agreements.

"To Him—Our Love."

To every American who served under his command, to every American who saw and heard him or even read his messages to our people has come the realization of the high integrity and fine, simple greatness of the man. To him went at once our love and a silent pledge to do our part to carry out his deepest desire—a just peace and a safe peace for all the world.

His comrades of the American Legion are proud and happy that we could bring him to our people, that this grateful nation could learn to know him as we do: to appreciate him and to appreciate our allies, who still sore and bleeding from their defense of the civilized world, are proving their spirit is indomitable.

The American legion is pledged to carry on the battles for the principles for which our buddies died. We feel that this would be their wish, and we shall not forget.

A Force for Good.

Composed of men and women who know what war means and not as pacifists, but with open eye and hard-earned experience, we intend to do everything within our power to cement together the great allies who fought that war might not come again. There is no surer guarantee to the peoples of the world that our victory may indeed be victorious and bring security to those who come after us. Every man and woman in the American legion has no other desire than to build our organization into such a wonderful force for good and tie it so strongly into our national existence that it can accomplish these things.

The strength of the legion is in the individual post and the men who compose it. It is to do them honor that this great leader of men came to their communities. It has naturally been our duty in fighting the battles for the disabled veteran and for all the ex-service men and women to ask things of the American people. We have now brought them something that we hope and believe will be of the greatest inspiration toward their future welfare.

The simple, wonderful character of this man whom we brought to you we believe has impressed itself upon America. He has looked into the faces of our people and found them good, and he has taken back the message he read there that the allies of yesterday are the allies of today and that they shall be the allies of tomorrow.

LARUE SUNDAY-SCHOOL CLASS HAS MEETING

Lively Buds Meet with Miss Gladys Shirk.

LaRue, O., March 20.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ernest Clark was hostess to the Happy Tyme club Thursday afternoon. The meeting was well attended and Mrs. C. C. Clark and Miss Willa Ruth Davis were guests. A spelling bee was the main feature of the afternoon's entertainment. A social hour followed during which the hostess served refreshments. The club will meet again in two weeks with Mrs. John Cleveland.

Quite a number from this place attended the pie social and entertainment at the Lennox school house just west of town Friday evening. The program was in charge of the teacher, Miss Martha Frederick and was well rendered. Over eight dollars was realized from the sale of the pies. This will be used for the benefit of the school in buying equipment.

William Winders, who a number of years ago was a resident of this village, and conducted a barber shop here, has returned from Marion and has already opened up a barber shop. He purchased the resident property of T. L. Shirk and will move his family there at once.

The women teachers of the LaRue public schools enjoyed a dinner at the school-house, Wednesday evening. A get-together-meeting followed the dinner.

The Lively Buds' Sunday-school class of the Baptist church, taught by Mrs. Harold Davis, enjoyed a pleasant time Thursday evening with Miss Gladys Shirk at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shirk. Mary Culp, Gertrude Burnsides, Dellght Denman, Francis Crowley and Mrs. Davis contributed to an interesting program. Elizabeth Raub gave a report of the Young People's meeting held at Marion and which she attended as a delegate from her class. A business session followed the program. After which the time was passed socially. Refreshments were served, Dorothy Baker and Francis Crowley being assistant hostesses. Miss Princess Wilson and Miss Olive Hussey were guests. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Davis, the teacher.

Members of Waller Scott Lodge, No. 214, Knights of Pythias enjoyed a fine banquet in the hall Thursday evening. The affair was given by that faction of the lodge, championed by Carl Smith, which was defeated by the other faction with C. C. Metz as leader, in a contest for new members and reinstatements. The banquet was attended by about 150, was served at 6 o'clock after which the regular lodge session was held and several candidates initiated.

Rev. J. W. Horne, of the Methodist church has announced special meetings to begin Sunday morning and to continue indefinitely. The program for the week has been announced with a different speaker for each evening.

The ladies of the Embroidery club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. M. Davis. The meeting was well attended and Mrs. C. E. Prettyman was a guest. The time was devoted to fancy work and music and the hostess served a St. Patrick's supper, shamrocks being given as favors. The club will meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Glenn Miller east of town and will be the last meeting of the season.

BRITAIN ACTS IN ULSTER WAR

Government Intervenes Today To Stop Fighting.

MILITARY GARRISONS TO BE STRENGTHENED

Seat of Trouble Is Ulster Frontier, Where Two Armies Face Each Other.

London, March 21. — The British government today intervened to prevent war between the Irish Free State and Ulster province.

Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, secretary of war in the British cabinet, announced in the house of commons that the military garrisons in the north of Ireland were being strengthened and that efforts were being made to restore order in Ulster.

The seat of disturbance is the southern frontier of Ulster where two armies of Orangemen and Republicans face each other.

Force Rushed to Tyrone.

A detachment of special constables was rushed to County Tyrone upon receiving word that the whole countryside was "ablaze."

Raiders have extended their activities. Many houses have been burned in various localities.

Several loyalists were wounded while defending their home against attack.

Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill told the house of commons that the raids over the Ulster border had been organized by local bands and that the Irish provisional government at Dublin had no responsibility for them.

The ministry for home affairs in the Ulster government made the formal charge today that the Sinn Feiners are organizing an army to attempt to overthrow the Belfast regime.

Trench Warfare.

Belfast, March 21.— Following the outbreak of guerrilla fighting along the Ulster boundary over the week-end, a state of trench warfare was threatened today. Both the Orangemen and Sinn Feiners have been digging in all along the line. Each side is heavily armed.

Although war is threatened between the Irish Free State and Ulster, the British government will not intervene except as a last resort.

The British government is apprehensive over the outlook and is urging the most careful measures on the part of Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, commander-in-chief of the Ulster volunteers.

While the government is loath to interfere, it is hinted that British troops will take over the disputed territory unless there is a peaceful settlement.

The Belfast carters have gone on strike declaring that they are risking their lives daily by working in bullet-swept streets.

Wave of Violence.

Belfast, March 21.—Another wave of violence rolled along the Ulster frontier today.

Armed Orangemen and Sinn Feiners clashed at numerous points.

Raiders attacked Glengreen lodge, in County Donegal, but the owner John Allinghan, a Unionist leader, and his tenants, stood off the attackers. A special constable was killed in a clash with Republicans.

A wave of incendiarism has swept Belfast.

The British government may carry out military intervention to prevent war between Ulster and the Irish Free State but this will be done only as a last resort.

You take railroad travel for granted these easy days.

But remember about Stephenson and the first locomotive. A lucky strike for progress!

LUCKY STRIKE!

The discovery of toasted tobacco was a lucky strike for us.

If you will buy a package of Lucky Strike cigarettes yourself you will see why millions now prefer the toasted flavor.*

Takes Case Up.

Moyer Hess, plaintiff-inerror, filed a brief through Carhart & Warner in the court of appeals today against Perry C. Royer, defendant-in-error. The plaintiff-in-error brought the action in the common pleas court for a commission in the sum of $250 for the sale of a farm, the jury returning a verdict in favor of the defendant-in-error named.

Burial in Cincinnati.

Columbus, March 21.—The body of the late William L. Finley, former Democratic state chairman, whose death, due to cerebral hemorrhages, occurred yesterday at the McMillan sanitarium, Shepard, near here, will be shipped to Cincinnati tomorrow morning, it was announced here today. Burial is to be made in Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati.

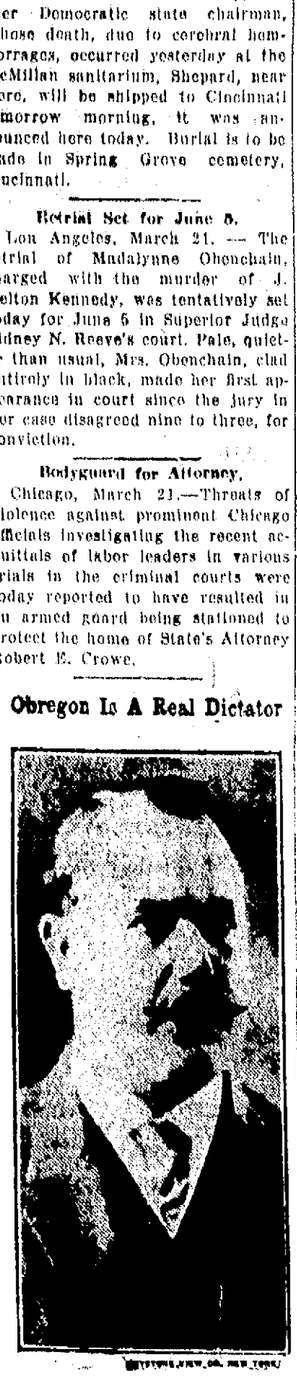
Retrial Set for June 5.

Los Angeles, March 21. — The retrial of Madalynne Obenchain, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was tentatively set today for June 5 in Superior Judge Sidney N. Reeve's court. Pale, quieter than usual, Mrs. Obenchain, clad entirely in black, made her first appearance in court since the jury in her case disagreed nine to three, for conviction.

Bodyguard for Attorney.

Chicago, March 21.—Threats of violence against prominent Chicago officials investigating the recent acquittals of labor leaders in various trials in the criminal courts were today reported to have resulted in an armed guard being stationed to protect the home of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

Obregon Is A Real Dictator



Gen. Alvarez Obregon, President of Mexico, is proving that he can employ "mailed fist" methods if circumstances require them. He has, within the past fortnight killed no less than three revolutions in their incipiency, by the simple expedient of executing their leaders. Three Generals—Proneda, Rulis and Lugardo—have faced the firing squad with a score or more lesser officers, and as a result all is quiet and serene in the land of tortillas.

NEW DRIVES ON RUM PLANNED

States Listed as "Wet" To Be Dried Up.

SILENT INVASION BY ENFORCEMENT AGENTS

Florida Plan of Campaign To Be Followed in a Number of States.

Washington, March 21. — New drives to dry up the states that are still listed by prohibition officials as "very wet," will take the form of silent invasion by regiments of enforcement agents, moving about incognito from locality to locality and all acting under orders for simultaneous raids.

The Florida plan of campaign against bootleggers will be followed soon in a number of states, it was learned today. Special agents, grouped together in these maneouvers, will be drawn out of Florida within a short period. Officials here believed today that the clean-up of violators will be complete within a week or ten days.

Some of the chief attacks of the raiders in their coming campaign will be in the rural sections of states from which the country's principal supplies of moonshine have been obtained.

Prohibition officials here said today that the moonshine liquor problem is second only to that of smuggling and is gaining importance as an element of danger to enforcement.

Spectacular Raids Soon.

After the Florida clean-up of rum runners, a number of other southern states will be singled out for attack by the raiders.

Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia probably will be the centers of spectacular raids.

Reports to officials today disclosed a very alarming increase in the output of "white mule." Millions of gallons of this dynamic brand of liquor are pouring forth into the larger cities to appease eager demands of bootleggers, now unable to obtain whisky of the bonded variety, according to reports of prohibition inspectors sent into the field.

Many of the prohibition directors have asked for the aid of extra forces of general prohibition agents. Their forces are too limited to attempt a general and wholesome roundup of alleged violators on a scale similiar to that now under way in Florida, officials declared today.

PRESIDENT CONSIDERS BRAZILIAN VISIT

No Decision Either Way on the Matter as Yet.

Washington, March 21.—President Harding has under favorable consideration the proposal that he attend the Brazilian exposition at Rio de Janeiro during the coming late fall or winter, it was learned officially at the White House this afternoon.

There has been no decision either way as yet, it was stated, and the pressure of public business will in the end determine whether he shall make the trip.

Oil Strike in Marietta.

Marietta, March 21.—What is reported to be a 500 barrel oil well, the biggest strike made in eastern fields in many months, was drilled in today by Dick Gallagher, of St. Marys, West Virginia, and a party of New York men near Raven Rock, West Virginia. The well is reported to be flowing at the rate of twenty barrels per hour. Gallagher and his associates have a large block of leases in the vicinity of the well.

Negro Lynched.

Vicksburg, Miss., March 21.—Pascall Plunkett, negro slayer of Deputy Sheriff J. L. Calvin, of Sondheimer, Louisiana, was overtaken by a posse near the scene of the murder, and riddled with bullets according to word received here this afternoon. The negro is said to have resisted arrest. Details of the killing are lacking.

Four Killed in Blast.

Indiana, Pa., March 20.—Four men were killed by an explosion today in the mine of the Diltown Smokeless Coal company, at Diltown, near here. Four other workers were overcome by mine damp but it is believed they will recover.

BOSTON TOO WICKED; STUDENTS TO QUIT

Boston, March 21.—Norwegian students may be transferred to institutions of learning in cities "less wicked than Boston."

This became known today when it was learned that Obert Sletten, Norwegian consul in Boston, has gone to New York to confer with Consul General Fay, after investigating the suicide of Otto Haldor Larsen which followed that of Pauline Virginia Clark. It is known that student life here will be the topic of their discussion.

Middle western and German universities are mentioned as possibilities.

IRISH LEADERS WHO WILL TOUR AMERICAN CITIES

Intent upon presenting their views to the American people, five Irish leaders, representing two political factions of that country, have arrived in the United States and will make a speaking tour of the principal cities. Austen Stack and James J. O'Kelly, at top, are here in behalf of the Irish republic, proposed by Eamonn de Valera. James O'Mara, Piaras Beaslai and Sean MacCaivlte will represent the present provisional government of Ireland.

PRESIDENT MAY VETO ARMY CUT

In Overseas Possessions, It Is Reported.

BILL WOULD DEPLETE ISLAND GARRISONS

"Little Army" Advocates Victorious in House Today—Attack on Bill Repulsed.

Washington, March 21.—President Harding may veto the pending army bill, it was indicated at the White House this afternoon, if congress passes it with directions as to how the overseas troops of the United States shall be distributed.

The bill cuts the Hawaiian and Philippine garrisons to mere skeleton organizations.

The president considers, it was stated officially, that congress has nothing to say about where the troops of the United States shall be stationed as that power is invested in the president as commander-in-chief of the army and navy.

"Little Army" Men Triumph.

Washington, March 21.—"Little army" advocates in the house, triumphed once more today in their fight with administration forces over the appropriation bill reducing the United States army to 115,900 enlisted men.

Represented by the powerful appropriations committee, they repulsed an attack of the house military affairs committee which questioned the right of the appropriations committee to fix the size of the armed forces.

The nearer you approach many a great man the smaller he looks.

New Assistant Treasurer Of The United States

H. Theodore Tate, of Morristown, Tenn., who has been nominated by President Harding to be Deputy Assistant Treasurer of the United States.

ROADS TO FIGHT PRESENT SCALE

Nineteen Systems Will Plea Inability To Pay.

WILL ASK RAILROAD BOARD FOR PAY CU

Fact That Two of the Rai roads Are Important Lines Causes Some Surprise.

Chicago, March 21.—Nine western railroads, including t Chicago & Northwestern and t Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul ra roads, will plead inability to pay t present wage scale as one of th main reasons for asking the Unite States railroad labor board grant another wage cut in the ca now before the board.

Additional arguments for the de crease will include the contentio that the cost of living is lower an that wages in other lines are corre spondingly lower than in the rai way business.

Only a few minor eastern roa will make the inability to pay pa of their case.

List Made Public.

The list of the nineteen roads wa made public today by John W. Hig gins, executive secretary of th Western Association of Railway Ex ecutives, at the insistence of B. M Jewell, head of the shop craf union.

The list was handed to the boar The inclusion of the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Mil waukee & St. Paul came as a sur prise, as it was believed only th smaller systems would plead pov erty. The Soo line was the mos important of the other roads enter ing an inability to pay plea.

Case Taken Up.

Briefs were filed in the court o appeals today through Carhart & Warner representing the plaintiff-in error in the case of the America Railway Express company, plaintiff in-error, against Charles A. Cooper defendant-in-error. The defendant in-error was awarded a judgment f $251.10 in the common pleas cou for furniture lost in shipment.

Harvey Recall Denied.

Washington, March 21.—Persis tent reports, both here and abroa that Colonel George Harvey is shor ly to retire as American ambassador to Great Britain, were officiall denied at the White House this af ternoon. President Harding has n intimation, it was stated, that Co onel Harvey is going to retire.

Philip for Uruguay.

Washington, March 21.—Presi dent Harding today sent to th senate the nomination of Hoffma Philip, of New York, to be en extraordinary and minister plen potentiary to Uruguay.

Liberty Bonds.

New York, March 21.—Closing Lib erty bonds: 3½, 97.70; first 98.00; second 4, 97.78; first 4¼ 98.06; second 4¼, 97.94; third 4¼ 98.06; fourth 4¼, 98.20; Victor 3⅜, 100.02; Victory 4¾, 100.92.

The Happiest Time of Her Life

Admiration, attention—groups of eager young men awaiting her appearance and more partners than she can dance with—this makes girlhood days the happiest time of a woman's life.

To miss this popularity is a tragedy. Yet many girls are socially unsuccessful because of some lack in charm.

What constitutes this charm is hard to define—but one thing is certain. The popular girl, the successful girl, the gay, happy, all-admired girl, is always distinguished by a fresh, radiant skin.

How to have this perfect complexion is the problem of many girls, but we can solve it for you. It's a simple secret, discovered many thousand years ago.

What spoils complexions

Every day your skin accumulates a coating of dust, dirt and general soil. Every day you apply powder, and every day most women use a little or much cold cream.

This dirt, powder and cold cream penetrates the tiny skin pores and fills them. Perspiration completes the clogging. You can judge for yourself what happens if you fail to wash these accumulations away.

Once a day your skin needs careful, thorough cleansing to remove these clogging deposits. Otherwise you will soon be afflicted with coarseness, blackheads and blotches.

How soap beautifies

Mild, pure, soothing soap, such as Palmolive, is a simple yet certain beautifier. Its profuse, creamy lather penetrates the network of skin pores and dissolves all dangerous deposits. Gentle rinsing carries them away.

When your skin is thus cleansed, it quickly responds with fresh, smooth radiance. The healthful stimulation results in natural becoming color. And the lotion-like qualities of the Palmolive lather keeps your complexion delightfully soft.

Now, when your skin is healthfully clean, is the time to apply cold cream. Now, powder and that touch of rouge are harmless. You can perfect your good complexion and beautify one not so good by the means of this simple cosmetic cleansing.

Cleopatra's way

With all classic peoples, bathing was a daily rite never neglected. The ruins of Cleopatra's sumptuous marble bath are ample proof of her faith in this ancient beauty secret.

Palm and olive oils were the cleansers used—the same bland oriental oils we blend scientifically in Palmolive. The lotion-like qualities which made them the most highly prized of all old world beautifiers are imparted to Palmolive Soap.

A 10-cent luxury

The vast volume in which we produce Palmolive to supply the world-wide demand naturally lowers cost. If made in small quantities the price would be at least 25 cents. Manufacturing economy permits us to offer this finest facial soap for only 10 cents.

Thus you can afford to share Cleopatra's favorite luxury. Use Palmolive for bathing and let it do for your body what it does for your face.

BIG RUM RING IS UNCOVERED

Florida Business Men Are Said To Be Implicated.

REVENUE AGENT IN CHARGE OF RAIDERS

Contracts of Ring Backed by Bankers and Others—Federal Officers Are Startled.

Washington, March 21.—Colonel L. G. Nutt of the internal revenue bureau has reported to Prohibition Commissioner Haynes that a bootlegging ring has been uncovered at Miami, Fla., so thoroughly organized that its contracts were backed by some Miami bankers, who also acted as trustees for funds covering large sales.

"In substance," the colonel's report said, "the operators brazenly proposed: 'We will contract for all the liquor you want—Scotch, Irish or champagne. We will go and fetch it.'"

The conveying of liquor from nearby foreign shores, the report added, was a minor transaction compared with the program for putting it ashore and shipping it to northern points.

Commissioner Haynes declared that arrests were imminent at Miami.

Colonel Nutt personally directed his 40 aids in raids over a territory of 20 square miles, which resulted in the seizure of liquors in 25 places and the arrest of 20 persons. The prisoners later were required to give bonds of $200 each. In his report, Colonel Nutt said his agents had been directed to bootleggers with the same frankness that a police officer would direct a stranger and that they had purchased liquor at various places, even winning it as prizes off punch boards. In some cases, he added, bootleggers had given bankers as references, and in two instances "leading bankers held the purchase in trust and signed contracts to that effect."

Referring to smuggling operations, he said it was a minor matter for many boats operating off the coast to bring in liquor from the Bahamas or to meet schooners off the keys and make purchases. Bootleggers brazenly delivered this liquor to any place desired, he added.

Colonel Nutt declared that many prominent business men will be implicated in the financing of the bootlegging ring.

TAX AMENDMENT IS PROPOSED BY REALTORS

Would Adopt It in Place of the Uniform Rule Section.

Columbus, March 21.—Meeting here at the call of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, representatives of various organizations interested in tax reform gave final authority to an executive committee to initiate an amendment to take the place of the present uniform rule section of the constitution.

The proposed amendment says that all tax rates on "property according to its true value in money" shall not exceed 15 mills in any tax district unless voted by the people for specific purposes and periods. If income taxes are levied, it provides, the incomes from "property or the use thereof" may be exempted. In place of the present county budget commission, composed entirely of county officials, it proposes a county board of apportionment of which city and school officials may be members. Finally, a second proposed amendment, provides for debt limitation.

The executive committee in charge of the campaign to obtain the necessary 200,000 signatures to put the proposals on the ballot for next November is composed of C. A. Dyer, Columbus, L. T. Palmer, Middletown; R. B. Thompson, Salem; O. E. Hawk, Youngstown, and John E. McCrehen, Columbus.

CINCINNATI GETS FIRST GRANT COINS

Souvenir Money Shipped by the Philadelphia Mint.

Washington, March 21.—A flow of gold dollars has started from the Philadelphia mint toward Cincinnati. These are the first shipments of Grant souvenir coins authorized by congress to commemorate the centennial of the birth of General Grant. There are 5,000 gold dollars in the shipment consigned to the First National bank of Cincinnati, which is to be the fiscal agent in distributing the coins. All of the dollars of the first shipment are specially marked with a star and will be sold for $3.50 each. The remaining gold coins will be without a star and will sell for $1 apiece.

On Wednesday the mint will ship 25,000 silver half dollars of the Grant souvenir series to the Cincinnati bank, which will market them at $1.50 apiece.

Bandits Make Big Haul.

Chicago, March 21.—Three auto bandits raided the pawnshop of Marcus Nierman and escaped with $100,000 in jewelry. Nierman and his clerks, Joshua and H. Cohen, were ordered to throw up their hands. Valuables were grouped out of the safe and from the show cases into a bag. The robbers escaped.

NEWS OF THE STATE

Village Gutted.

Van Wert, O., March 21.—The village of Willshire, near the Indiana state line, was the scene of a fire which destroyed four business houses, including the postoffice and the Herald Printing company. One residence also was burned. Five automobiles and three horses were burned at a livery.

$1,500,000 in Dividends.

Youngstown, O., March 21.—Industries here will disburse more than $1,500,000 in dividends April 1, representing first quarterly payments. The largest single dividend will be by the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, which will pay $575,000 in dividends on its preferred and common stock.

Auto Hits Pole; Two Dead.

Cleveland, March 21.—Two men were instantly killed when the automobile in which they were passengers crashed into a telephone pole at Newburg Heights. The driver of the car, Henry Heldt, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter. The victims were John Imbery, 40, and Roy Williams. Police claim Heldt was driving 77 miles an hour.

Bank Robber Found Guilty.

Columbus, March 21.—Only 16 minutes was required for the jury to return verdict of guilty against Charles Provence for complicity in the robbery of the Hilltop branch of the Citizens' Trust and Savings bank. Following the verdict, George Richmond and Walter Van Dyke, jointly indicted with Provence, Harry Lutz, John Rohero and Lambert Britz, sent word to Prosecutor King they would plead guilty to complicity not only in the Hilltop job, but the robbery of the Steelton bank also.

Receivers For Oil Corporation.

New York, March 21.—Federal receivers were appointed for the Island Oil and Transport corporation, with properties valued at millions of dollars. Lack of ready cash was said to have made an equity receivership necessary.

France to Pay Debt.

Paris, March 21.—Premier Poincare authorized confirmation of the statement he made recently to the finance committee of the chamber of deputies in executive session that France intends to pay her debt to the United States.

Dr. Lorenz In Detroit.

Detroit, March 21.—Dr. Adolf Lorenz, world famed orthopedic surgeon of Vienna, began the work of administering to 300 crippled Detroit children. Dr. Lorenz was invited to this city by Mayor James Couzens.

Charges Extortion.

Sharon, Pa., March 21.—Characterizing the lawsuit instituted against him at Mercer, Pa., for $100,000 by Elisabeth Pfeiderer of Bucyrus, O., former instructor in music at Oberlin college, as an attempt to get money, John Fahnline, 62, widower and retired steel manufacturer of this city, has retained attorneys to fight the case. Miss Pfeiderer alleges that Fahnline broke his promise to marry her.

Fire Attacks Roofing Plant.

Middletown, O., March 21.—Fire destroyed at least one half of the plant of the Vulcanite Roofing Paper company at Franklin, six miles north of here. Apparatus from Middletown and Miamisburg gave assistance. One worker, John Buchanan, was severely burned and was brought to Middletown hospital. Others were slightly burned.

King's Wedding Postponed.

Belgrade, March 21.—The wedding of King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia and Princess Marie of Roumania will take place the middle of July. The marriage was originally set for May, but May is popularly regarded in Serbia as an unlucky month, so the king, although he is not superstitious, was obliged to defer to the general idea.

Would Enjoin Rate Order.

New York, March 21.—Injunction proceedings were instituted against the government by counsel for nearly 100 railroads in connection with the rate order promulgated by the interstate commerce commission, effective March 1, which the petitioners assert is arbitrary and outside the powers of the commission.

Miner Crushed.

New Lexington, O., March 21.—Roy Penrod, 24, was probably fatally injured at Gosline mine when caught between mine cars while at work underground.

DRASTIC SLASH IN NAVY SEEN

Enlisted Personnel To Be Cut to 65,000 Men.

SECRETARY DENBY IS FOR FORCE OF 90,000

House Body Would Give Commissions to Only 135 of 540 Naval Academy Graduates.

Washington, March 21.—Drastic reductions in navy department estimates for the next fiscal year were made by the house subcommittee on appropriations in framing the navy bill.

Instead of providing funds for an enlisted personnel of 90,000, as urged by Secretary Denby, the committee fixed the total at 65,000, and authorized the commissioning of about 135 of the 541 members of the June graduating class at the naval academy.

In round numbers the bill will carry something like $200,000,000, as compared with Mr. Denby's estimate of $350,000,000.

While the appropriations committee was speeding up in the hope of having the measure ready by the end of the week, the house naval committee was at work on its bill fixing the navy's authorized strength and considering legislation necessary to clear up new tangles in the naval academy situation. The rough draft of the bill on which the committee worked called for a total authorized enlisted strength of 85,000, plus 6,000 apprentices, as against 131,485, plus the same number of apprentices as now. A proportionate cut would be made in the commissioned personnel total.

After a conference at the capitol with house Republican leaders, Secretary Weeks said he saw little prospect of the house agreeing to a larger army during the coming fiscal year than that provided for in the army appropriation bill—115,000 men and 11,000 officers.

Reiterating his belief that pay provisions should be made for 143,000 men, exclusive of 7,000 Philippine scouts and 13,000 officers, the secretary of war said he hoped the senate would insist on that strength.

BRITISH FLAG HOISTED ON ARCTIC ISLAND

Americans in Party Claiming Land for England.

New York, March 21.—Wrangel island, one of the most important lands in the Arctic region, has been claimed for Great Britain by a party of three Americans, a Canadian and four Eskimos, it became known through Vilhjalmar Stefansson, Arctic explorer, organizer of the expedition. Mr. Stefansson said the British flag had been planted on the island Sept. 21 last. One of the Americans was Frederick Maurer of New Philadelphia, O.

Wrangel island is about the size of Jamaica, lying 100 miles off the northeastern coast of Siberia and 400 miles west of Behring strait. Strategically the island dominates northeastern Siberia. Mr. Stefansson said only the leader of the party, Allen Crawford, a Canadian, knew of the mission of the expedition. The Americans, he said, became connected with the expedition purely through love of adventure.

Everybody sentimentalizes over the dear old farm except those who have to work on it.

SOCIETY

The last business meeting of the season of the active members of the Lecture-Recital club was held in the Central Junior High-school building last evening and was well attended. Following the rehearsal of the chorus, Mrs. H. K. Mouser, the president, opened the meeting by announcing the coming convention of the Federation of Music clubs to be held at Granville May 16-18 on the campus of Denison university.

The club voted to create a study section in connection with the club next year, the plan to be worked out by a committee to be appointed by Mrs. A. H. Honefanger, the incoming president.

The next program will be held March 27 and will be in the form of a song recital, chorally interpreted. The chorus of the club has been working all this year on the exceptionally fine program to be rendered that evening, C. J. Colmer having directed the chorus.

HEADACHES AND SLEEPLESSNESS

Usually Caused By Stomach or Bowel Trouble

It is usually found that the beginning of headaches or sleeplessness or other nervous conditions is from constipation or indigestion or both. The explanation is simple for one can readily understand that if they should eat spoiled food they would immediately become deathly sick if indeed they did not die from it. There is little difference between eating spoiled food and having it spoil after it is taken into the stomach. It immediately comes in contact with the blood and if the stomach sours it and ferments it producing poisonous gases it is quite natural that headaches and general nervousness would quickly follow. Later if the condition becomes chronic anemia and a general run down condition prevails. The surest and quickest road to health in such distress is Nerv-Worth, for sale at most drug stores at one dollar a bottle on a positive guarantee of money back if the first bottle does not show satisfactory results. It is always on sale in this city at the Schmidt & Co. drug store.

Mrs. Huffman, of Johnstown, Pa., told us of her experience. She had periodical headaches, terribly distracting and painful every three or four days. Her stomach and bowels were bad. She had rheumatic pains and was very weak and all run down. Before she had taken one bottle her pain left her and she slept soundly.—Adv.

CHURCH SOCIETY

Services at Wesley.

Miss Edna Banning, the evangelist, last night at Wesley M. E. church, spoke on Acts 8:21—"Thy heart is not right with God." "Simon watched Peter and other disciples," Miss Banning said. "He saw when they laid their hands on others and prayed they received the Holy Ghost. He coveted that power. He did not have it and did not know how to get it and was unwilling to pay the price necessary to have it. He was willing to pay money. But Peter said 'Thy heart is not right with God. You thought the gift of God could be bought with money.' If one would have the gift of God he must ask with right motives and be willing to pay God's price. Some ask for the gift of God because they simply want power. They love power and wish to be able to display power. They are not thinking of the glory of God nor of the good of others but of their own 'glory.' Some want this gift because they want to be prominent in the church and in the community. They want to be outstanding characters in the community, have folks look up to them as being somewhat when they are not much. This gift can not be had unless we are willing to pay God's price—complete surrender to Him and a longing for a pure heart and life. God is an arithmetician. The first thing He does for one is to add something, to give something you never had — a new heart and then he takes away something you always had—a carnal nature. Then he multiplies mercy and grace in your life. This goes on and on forever, this multiplying. If we give God a real chance to continue it. There is nothing for the soul that is not right with God but a chance to come to God and get right. That is God's first call."

Several went forward. Services will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock and tomorrow at 2:00 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Trinity Sorority Meets.

Miss Helen Keefer and Miss Ella Spreng were hostesses to the members of Trinity sorority of Trinity Baptist church, Monday evening in the church parlors. The study hour was in charge of Miss Marie Horner after which Mrs. Cora Gossler, Mrs. Harley Peters, Miss Elsie Barker and Miss Marjorie Holmes contributed to an interesting program.

Reports on the World-Wide guild convention held March 10, 11 and 12 at Toledo, were given by Miss Pauline McClelland, delegate; Mrs. Harley Peters, Mrs. Cora Gossler and Miss Mildred Drake. The next state convention will be held in Cincinnati. A social hour followed the business meeting. The sorority will meet April 3.

Royal Buster Class.

The Royal Buster class, of the Bennett street chapel, held its regular meeting at the home of the teacher, L. O. Strock, No. 804 Bennett street, Monday night. The next meeting of the class will be held at Mr. Strock's home the evening of April 20.

Junior King's Daughters.

Miss Dorothy Stark entertained the members of the Junior circle, King's Daughters, Monday evening at her home on south State street. Two new members were enrolled and Miss Marguerite Boger led in inspirational readings. The next meeting will be held the second Monday in April.

Revival at Central Christian.

Rev. J. O. Persinger spoke on the subject "A Live Man With Grave Clothes On" at the revival services at Central Christian church Monday evening. "As a worker, our Lord stands alone," Rev. Mr. Persinger said. "No other was able to unite his voice with his power as did Jesus. And yet He was pleased to unite His disciples with Him in the blessed work of saving souls. At the grave of Lazarus He said to them 'Loose him and let him go.'

"Here was a strange sight. The man was alive, but something more must be done. Something to be done by His disciples. Lazarus was wholly raised, but not wholly freed. A living man in the garments of the grave. A fitting symbol for hundreds of church members. They have been made alive, but still in the grave clothes of old habits. A live man does not look well with a death robe on. If you think your graveyard religion amounts to anything you had better ask God about it." Mr. Persinger will preach tonight on "How Can We Make a Short Bed Longer?"

Prayer Service at Greenwood.

A prayer service was held Monday evening at the Greenwood Evangelical church in charge of Rev. B. W. Powell. There will be no service this evening and an evangelistic service will be held Wednesday evening instead of the regular mid-week prayer service.

Services at Calvary.

The revival services at the Calvary Evangelical church last evening proved to be one of the best services held at the church for some time, despite the inclement weather.

The pastor, Rev. C. L. Allen, preached on the theme, "The Baptism with Fire," and in response to his appeal five people went to the altar. E. E. Helminger, the song leader and soloist for the meetings, sang an effective solo, "Since Jesus Touched Me with His Love."

The services this evening will be held at 7:30 o'clock and the pastor will speak on the theme "The Backslider."

Will Broadcast Speeches.

Speeches to be made by Congressman Simeon D. Fess and Hon. W. B. Stevens at the annual meeting of the Urichsville, Ohio, Board of Trade, March 27, will be broadcasted through use of the radiophone. The adjustment will be at 360 meters and the call will be identified as station WTA. The program will commence at 8 o'clock in the evening.

To Study Trees.

A study of "Trecology" and particularly of the evergreen trees will be taken up at the meeting of troop No. 1, Boy Scouts, Wednesday evening at the new scout-room of the Y. M. C. A. building.

OLNEY SHOWS HIGHEST PER CENT. OF EYE CASES

According to Statistics in Eye Conservation Campaign.

LINCOLN BUILDING PROVES BANNER SCHOOL

Less Than Six Per Cent. in All Schools Have Less Than Fifty Per Cent. Vision.

Statistics compiled from tests in connection with the eye conservation campaign conducted in Marion elementary schools under auspices of the Council of Jewish Women revealed the fact that the heaviest percentage of defective eyesight is found at the Olney Avenue school building. Approximately 13.4 per cent. of the children in this district have less than fifty per cent. normal vision. The Lincoln building proved to be the banner school of the city. Only 3.1 per cent. of the pupils there had vision less than fifty per cent. normal. The average in all the elementary schools was approximately 5.6 per cent.

"Only children with vision less than fifty per cent. normal were recorded," Dr. H. R. McVay, superintendent of schools, stated in making public results of the survey. "If a record had been kept of all children with defective eyes the result would have been startling." The tests, according to Dr. McVay, were conducted by the regular teachers, assisted by normal school students who had been given special training in the work.

Find 311 Defective.

Out of a total enrollment of 5,335 pupils, 311 were found to have vision less than fifty per cent. normal. The average for all buildings was a little over 5.6 per cent. Of this number but thirty-seven were listed as charity pupils, requiring assistance in obtaining glasses, which the Council of Jewish Women had agreed to furnish.

Conditions at the Vernon Heights and Silver street buildings were found to be but little better than at the Olney avenue building. The average at Vernon Heights was 10.4 per cent. and that at Silver street was eleven per cent. The north Main street and Mark street buildings were rated next to the banner Lincoln building. The average at the north Main street building was four per cent. and that at the Mark street building 4.9 per cent.

Number in Each School.

The number of pupils with vision less than fifty per cent. normal in the various buildings follows:

Lincoln, eight; Davids, ten; Glenwood, twenty-five; Greenwood, nineteen; Mark, twelve; north Main, six; Forest Lawn, seventeen; Oak street, nineteen; Oakland Heights, thirty; Olney avenue, thirty-five; Pearl street, twenty-five; Silver street, fifty-five; State street, nineteen, and Vernon Heights, thirty-three.

While there were fewer cases of defective vision at the north Main street school the difference in enrollment made the percentage heavier than at the Lincoln building. That building had only eight cases with an enrollment of 225, while north Main street, with six cases, has an enrollment of but 150. The same is true of the Olney avenue and Silver street buildings. Olney avenue had fewer cases of defective eyesight, but the school has an enrollment of only 260 while there are 498 pupils enrolled at the Silver street building.

ALONZO GLEN NEAL DIES AT CITY HOSPITAL

Following Operation for Obstruction of Bowel.

Alonzo Glen Neal, fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Neal, of Morral, died at the City hospital this morning at 11:30 o'clock, shortly after an operation. The boy was taken to the hospital March 11 and operated on that day for appendicitis, and this morning at 8 o'clock another operation was performed for an obstruction of the bowel.

The boy was born at Caledonia December 29, 1907. He leaves his parents, two brothers and a sister, Kinsel, Lucile and Robert, all at home.

The funeral will be held at the Baptist church at Morral Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in the Grand Prairie cemetery.

MRS. JOHN E. LOYER DIES MONDAY EVENING

Funeral To Be at First Reformed Church Thursday.

After seven weeks' illness from septic infection Mrs. Ruth Emma Loyer, wife of John E. Loyer, died at 7:30 o'clock last evening at her home in Richland township. A daughter, Marguerite, was born seven weeks ago.

Mrs. Loyer was nineteen years of age, having been born in this county June 23, 1902, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McChesney. She was married April 28, 1920, and is survived by her husband, two children, Clara Ellen and the baby, Marguerite; her father, W. S. McChesney, and a stepmother, of Richland township; a brother, Clarence, and a sister Florence, both at home.

Mrs. Loyer was a member of the Reformed church of Richland township, and Rev. F. E. Lahr, pastor of that church, will conduct the services which will be held from the First Reformed church in this city Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, following short services at the home at 1 o'clock. Rev. A. L. Scherry will assist. Interment will be made in the Marion cemetery.

BOWLING

Coca Colas Take Three.

The Coca Colas, of the Merchants bowling league, took two games out of three from the Thibaut-Mautz team on the Palace alleys, Monday night. The Cocas hit for 1,002 in the third game, Zeisler leading with a count of 245, while he totaled 625 in the three games. The scores were as follows:

Cocas—Baldauf, 212, 155, 171; Warrick, 117, 179, 194; Betz, 155, 178, 188; Hoffman, 145, 176, 201; Zeisler, 195, 182, 245. Totals, 824, 870, 1,002.

Funeral Will Be Held Thursday Afternoon.

Richwood, O., March 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Polly Anne Fuller, widow of Steven Fuller, died from the effect of gall stones at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Hannawalt, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She made her home with her other daughter, Mrs. Corbin Van Arsdall, at Byhalia, and was at the Hannawalt home on a visit when taken ill.

Mrs. Fuller was born in Delaware county seventy-four years ago November 4, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Decker. She leaves the two daughters and one son, Ira Fuller, of Ashtabula; and a brother, Walter Decker, of Springfield.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Bethleheni cemetery, south of here.

ALFRED E. WELKER DIES EARLY TODAY

Ill Eighteen Days of Tubercular Meningitis.

Alfred Emmet Welker, nine-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Emmet Welker, died from tubercular meningitis at the home of his parents, No. 6 Cottage street, this morning at 5:45 o'clock. The child had been ill eighteen days.

The baby was born here June 25, 1921, and was an only child. The parents, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Welker, of Cottage street, and grandmother, Mrs. Clara Parker, No. 662 Oak street, survive.

The funeral will be held from the home at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon and interment will be made in the Marion cemetery.

CITY IN BRIEF

To Complete Organization—Organization of the Window Decorators' association will be completed at a meeting at the offices of the Retail Merchants' bureau Wednesday evening. The new organization is a branch of the Retail Merchants' bureau. It will affiliate with the National Window Decorators' association. Otis Harriman will be the chairman of the meeting.

Attends Committee Meeting—Harry Palmer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, went to Columbus this morning to attend a meeting of the program committee of the Ohio Commercial Secretaries' association. The meeting was arranged for the purpose of completing the program for the state meeting, to be held at Newark some time in May.

Cooper Post Meets—Interesting personal war reminiscences featured the meeting of the members of Cooper Post, No. 117, G. A. R., Monday afternoon in the Junior Order hall. Colonel George B. Christian, representative of Cooper Post on the committee for arranging for a speaker for Memorial day, announced that no definite arrangements had been made. The next meeting will be held April 3.

Students Will Substitute—Students from the normal school will substitute for regular elementary school principals, who expect to attend a convention of administrative school officers, including principals and superintendents, which will be held at Ohio State university, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A large number of principals of Marion elementary schools are expecting to attend the convention. They will not leave Marion until Friday morning.

Reorganize Patrols—A reorganization meeting of patrols was held Monday afternoon by the members of Troop No. 2, Girl Scouts, at the home of Mrs. C. H. Akron, of Uhler avenue. Plans were made for the organization of a troop glee club and orchestra. The study of the semiphore code was taken up at this meeting. The troop will meet next Monday afternoon at Trinity Baptist church when the code study will be continued and the first lesson in bandaging will be taken up.

Grocery Burglarized—The grocery store of Ray Reidenbaugh, at the corner of Prospect and George streets, was burglarized Monday night and two twenty-five pound sacks of sugar, four sacks of flour, twelve dozen eggs, twenty-four cans of fruit and $3.06 in change taken. Entrance was gained by breaking a glass in the front door and the burglars went out the rear door. The burglary was reported to the police and the indications are that it occurred early in the evening as no tracks could be found.

Attends Funeral at Ashland—Mrs. Bertha Boyd, of the Arden shop, returned today from Ashland where she was called by the death of a nephew, Raymond McKinley, who died Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Ashland hospital of peritonitis. The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas McKinley. The young man would have been eighteen years old last Sunday and was a senior in the Ashland High school. Aside from the parents, one sister and three brothers survive.

Auto Dealers Meet—A well-attended meeting of the automobile dealers' division of the Retail Merchants' bureau was held in the offices of the Retail Merchants' bureau last night. The meeting was devoted to business. Plans were made for a banquet and meeting at the dining room in the Y. M. C. A. building, Monday, March 27. Automobile salesmen will be guests of the automobile dealers at the banquet and meeting. A program consisting of vocal selections and addresses by local automobile dealers is being planned.

Four Building Permits — Four building permits were issued by the city clerk Monday, two being for residences and two for garages. A. M. Hunter was granted a permit to construct a residence on south Pearl street at an estimated cost of $2,500; a permit for a residence on Spencer street at an estimated cost of $2,500 was secured by Miller E. Sweeney; G. B. Grace took out one for a garage on Windsor street at an estimated cost of $175, and the other was issued to Theodore Minshall for a garage on Carhart street at an estimated cost of $50.

Credit Men To Organize.

Credit men of the various retail stores in Marion will meet at the offices of the Retail Merchants' bureau tonight and organize as a branch of the bureau. The local Retail Credit Men's Association will affiliate with the National Retail Credit Men's association. In speaking of the new organization, Guy H. Hulse, secretary of the local bureau, said: "The new organization is being formed to improve credit conditions in Marion and to cooperate with the national organization in the receiving and giving of credit information.

HOTEL COMPANY BUYS CENTER STREET SITE

First Step Toward Constructing Harding Hotel.

EXPECT TO BEGIN EXCAVATION APRIL 1

Houses on Site Will Be Sold as Soon as Tenants Vacate, It Is Announced.

The first step toward commencement of actual work of constructing the new Harding hotel was taken Monday afternoon when the company purchased from Mrs. James B. Guthery the approved site at Orchard and Center streets, which has been under option for some time. Announcement that the deal had been definitely closed was made this morning by W. H. Holverstott, president of the company.

"It is the hope of the company to begin excavation for the new hotel by April 1," President Holverstott declared this morning. "Notices to vacate will be sent out immediately to occupants of the three residences which now occupy the site of the proposed structure. There is no reason to expect any delay as they have been prepared for this step for some time."

As soon as the properties have been vacated, President Holverstott announced, the three houses will be advertised for sale. "They probably will be sold at public auction," he said.

Two of the buildings can be moved from their present site intact. One of them will have to be torn apart to be removed.

STEAM SHOVEL TO OBSERVE SHOP NIGHT

At Y. M. C. A. Building Evening of March 29.

Marion Steam Shovel employes will celebrate their annual shop night at the Y. M. C. A. building Saturday evening. A similar affair will be staged Wednesday evening, March 29, by employes of the Susquehanna Silk Mills. Employes and their families will be in attendance and both functions are expected to attract crowds that will tax the capacity of the Y. M. C. A. building.

An athletic program has been arranged for the Marion Steam Shovel entertainment, beginning at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening. There will be a pool and billiard tournament, a bowling match, a girls' basketball game, a tug of war, a medicine ball match and a men's basketball game. Music will be furnished during the evening by the Marion Steam Shovel orchestra and quartet.

A program of different nature has been arranged for Silk Mills employes and their families. The program will open at 7 o'clock in the evening with an overture by Bair's orchestra. Other numbers are "Fun in a Photograph Gallery," a playlet; song by the Girls' chorus, "Good Mornin' Judge," a playlet, song by the Girls' chorus, and "Just a Little Minstrel," a one-act minstrel show. The program will be closed with a basketball game between the Silk Mills girls' team and some other girls' quintet to be selected later.

STYLE SHOW STAGED BY POWERS SHOP

Shows Irene Castle Dresses at Grand Theater.

A tiny ruffle, a long loop, a miniature posey, each has a meaning of its own in milady's attire at this season of the year and all were to be found in the charming spring styles of Irene Castle dresses and afternoon gowns shown on living models at the style show staged by the Powers shop, Monday evening, at the Grand theater. No less a feature were the hats worn with the costumes including Rawak, Schwalbe, Briercliff and Powers' designs.

The models were Mrs. Margaret Thomas, Miss Anna Marie Klingel, Miss Florence Huston, Miss Ethel Klingel, Miss Alberta Allen and Miss Mary Eloise Lott.

The style show will continue tonight and Wednesday evening, and the models will display some attractive sport models at this evening's performance.

GRAVE VAULT FIRM OPERATING PLANT

Eight Men Working in Plant on Monroe Street.

The Metalic Grave Vault company, one of the city's newest industries, has begun operation at the plant located on Monroe street. A number of vaults have been completed and others are under the course of construction. Eight men are employed at present and it is expected that when the factory is in full operation about thirty men will be employed.

The vaults are rust proof and are guaranteed for a period of fifty years. The industry originated about twenty years ago. There are only thirteen companies of the kind in the United States.

SEVEN MARION PEOPLE INTERPRET DANCES

As Additional Feature of Picture at Orpheum.

Spanish dances and the Argentina tango were cleverly interpreted Monday afternoon and evening by Misses Margaret Smith, Pauline O'Keeffe, Lietha Purson, Katherine Tennis, Mary Starner, Elinor Tennis and John Deardorff, pupils of Mrs. Edward F. Sharpless, at the Orpheum theater, as an additional feature of the picture, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

The opening number was a Spanish dance by Miss Pauline O'Keeffe, Miss Lietha Purson and Miss Katherine Tennis, with little Misses Mary Starner and Elinor Tennis in the feature roles.

Excellent team work was shown in the Argentina tango dances given by Miss Smith and Mr. Deardorff, and Mary Starner and Elinor Tennis, and the program closed with the tango number by the seven dancers. The dancing will be a part of the afternoon and evening program throughout the week.

INSTALL NEW TURBINE AT SCIOTO POWER PLANT

Generator Completed Will Double Capacity of Plant.

NEW MACHINE COSTS ABOUT $250,000

Work Expected To Be Finished About May 1—Installation Begun February 8.

Installation of a new turbo-generator which will double the capacity of the plant is now under way at the Scioto power plant of the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Electric company. According to A. F. VanDeinse, general manager of the company, it is expected that the turbine will be ready for use May 1. It cost approximately $250,000 and has a capacity of 6,000 kilowatts. Installation was begun February 8.

Has 425.5 Miles of Wire.

The C. D. & M. Electric company has sufficient wires carrying current to about 6,000 users in Marion to extend a single line from Marion to Chicago, a distance of 269.1 and another from Marion to Cincinnati, a distance of 143.6 miles, and still have nearly thirteen miles of wires left. The total milage of wire in Marion amounts to 425.6.

The number of electric users in Marion increased nearly thirty-three per cent during the year 1921. Of the total number of users about 4,500 users are residents and the others are manufacturers and business men.

Uses 4,000 Poles.

In carrying this 425.5 miles of wire, about 4,000 poles are used. The current comes from the Scioto power station to the old power station on north High street with a strength of 13,200 volts. From this it is distributed through three transformers, leaving them with a strength of 2,300 volts. The current is carried at this strength to 449 transformers over the city which reduce it to 110 and 220 volts.

At present the current is furnished by one turbine at the Scioto power station and another is nearing completion which is of exactly the same size. The generators each are of 6,000 kilowatt capacity or about 8,000 horsepower capacity. A little better idea of the capacity can be obtained from the fact that each will light 150,000 of the forty-watt lamps. They have an overload capacity of one-fourth. When both are completed they will be able to light 357,000 lamps of the forty-watt size at one time.

TO ADDRESS MARION ADVERTISING CLUB

James E. Morton, of Lima, To Speak March 28.

Announcement was made today that James E. Morton, secretary and manager of the Lima Retail Merchants' bureau and manager of the Better Business bureau there, will address a meeting of the Marion Ad club, at the Busy Bee cafeteria, Tuesday evening, March 28. His subject will be: "Better Business Bureau and Its Relation to Effectiveness in Advertising." The acceptance of the request to speak before the local club has been sought for some time, as Mr. Morton is an accredited authority on the organization of Better Business bureaus. He is well known among business men here. Mr. Morton has just returned from St. Louis, where he attended the better business bureau experts convention there.

MOLLIE VAN GORDEN FILES DIVORCE SUIT

Charges Husband with Neglect and Cruelty.

W. T. JONES BUYS CHURCH PROPERTY

Wesley Church Seeks Confirmation of Sale of Property at Blaine and Bellefontaine.

Mollie Van Gorden, through Attorney J. H. Eymon, filed a petition for a divorce from Henry C. Van Gorden in the common pleas court this morning. The parties were married October 5, 1892, and are the parents of five children. Charges of gross neglect and extreme cruelty are set up in the petition.

The plaintiff alleges the defendant frequently threatened her and the daughter Dalta, aged fifteen years, has beaten them and ordered the plaintiff to leave their home. She claims he is not a fit person to have the minor girl and that he follows her and the daughter and makes threats of violence. She also asks for alimony for the maintenance of the girl and an order restraining the defendant from molesting her and the children in the possession of the home, the custody of the children and household goods and from him following her. The temporary restraining order was granted by Judge Grant E. Mouser.

Report of Sale.

Report of the sale of the Wesley Methodist Episcopal church property, by permission of the court was made in the common pleas court today. The property, consisting of little more than three-fourths of an acre at the corner of Bellefontaine avenue and Blaine avenue, was sold to W. T. Jones for $5,000 and the court's approval and confirmation of the sale is asked.

Sustains Motion.

In the damage suit of George Marshall, a minor, by Charles Marshall, his next best friend, against the Hornell Ice & Cold Storage company and the Blome-Senek company, the motion of the defendant for an order of removal to the United States district court by furnishing a bond of $500 was sustained by Judge Grant E. Mouser today.

Decree of Foreclosure.

A decree of foreclosure according to terms of the entry was granted in the common pleas court Monday in the suit of the Marion Savings Bank company against Emma Foreman and others.

Files Partition Suit.

A petition for a partition of property was filed in the common pleas court this morning through Attorney John H. Clark by Adelbert E. Spicer against Lemma Spicer and others. The plaintiff asks that a one-sixth interest in a lot in Glenwood addition be set off to him.

Grants Partition.

In the suit for the partition of property brought by Joseph A. Salmon against the First Presbyterian church, Judge Grant E. Mouser granted the writ of partition and Charles E. Gompf, C. F. Pace and C. D. Schaffner were appointed commissioners.

WILL PROSECUTE TWO BURGLARS AT DELAWARE

Merchandise Taken from King Home To Be Returned.

Louis Bowers and George D. Espelt, in custody at Delaware on a charge of having broken into a church at Hyatts and who had property stolen from the home of C. B. King of Lafayette street, Saturday night, were not brought here on the latter charge. The Delaware authorities learned that the men also entered the high-school building at Hyatts and pilfered a large amount of stuff and they will be prosecuted there.

The merchandise taken from the King residence consisted of four suits of clothes, six silk shirts and a colt automatic revolver. The men confessed to the King burglary when confronted by Chief J. W. Thompson, Monday, but the merchandise was left with the Delaware authorities until after the case is disposed of there. They stated they came to Marion from Mansfield last Saturday and gave their homes as Philadelphia.

SAYS TELEPHONE RATES IN MARION ARE LOWER

Than in Other Cities of Same Size in Ohio.

ARTHUR J. BERRY SPEAKS TO ROTARIANS

Declares Public Utilities Pay More Taxes Than Other Businesses.

"Marion telephone users who complain about the service they are getting should rejoice that they do not live in Japan," Arthur J. Berry, manager of the Marion County Telephone company, told Rotarians at the noon luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. building today. "A recent news despatch from Japan carried the interesting information that 350 persons who applied for telephones in 1907 had just been granted them by the Central Telephone bureau, of Tokyo."

"Few people realize that public utilities are probably paying nearer 100 per cent, of the actual value of their properties in taxes than any other class of business," Mr. Berry said. "In the state of Ohio last year the assessed value of taxable property was increased $72,000,000 over the previous year and eighty-nine per cent. of that increase was assessed against public utilities. For every $1.75 paid to our company thirty-five cents goes for taxes alone.

Says Rates Lower.

Mr. Berry quoted figures to show that telephone rates are much lower in Marion than in other cities of Ohio of the same size. "One reason," he said, "is because our rates are fixed on our outstanding stock, valued at $300,000 whereas, if we chose to do so, we might go before the Public Utilities commission and have them based on a plant valuation of $700,000. To maintain earnings on this higher valuation we could increase our rates."

"I am not citing these figures to pave the way for an increase in rates," Mr. Berry said in conclusion. "We have no intention to ask for more money. I am simply presenting the facts to show that you have cause for appreciation of the service you are receiving."

J. E. Crawmer, who will attend the state convention in Dayton, Thursday and Friday, as a delegate from the Marion club, announced that he expected to leave for Dayton, Wednesday evening and that he would take care of hotel reservations or any other arrangements for fellow Rotarians who might desire to attend the convention.

Brief remarks were made by Ralph Rawlings and O. I. Clevenger, new members of the club.

MISS SPRING WEARS FURS AND GALOSHES

Snowstorm Greets Coming of New Season.

Miss Spring arrived today garbed in her fur coat, galoshes and other cold-weather garments. And her winter clothes did not come amiss, for Old King Winter handed out a real parting shot in the way of a snowstorm and held the stage all day.

Late Monday night the temperature dropped to the freezing point. During most of the night there was a light fall of snow and most of today the snowfall has continued, accompanied by a cold wind.

FORMER MARION MAN CONSUL AT BRESLAU

J. Howard Wetmore Named for German Post.

EXPECTS TO COME TO MARION FOR VISIT

Resigns Position in Local Bank Four Years Ago To Enter Consular Service.

J. Howard Wetmore, recently appointed consul at Breslau, Germany, is expected in Marion Friday or Saturday for a visit with friends. Mr. Wetmore has a leave of thirty days before he starts for his new post and expects to pass most of that time visiting in Columbus with his sister, Mrs. C. L. Allen, and attending to business affairs there.

Mr. Wetmore formerly resided in Marion and for approximately fifteen years was connected with the National City Bank & Trust company, then the City National bank. About four years ago Mr. Wetmore resigned his position as assistant cashier at the bank to enter the consular service and served as vice consul at Toronto. For two years Mr. Wetmore has been American consul at North Bay, Ontario, and leaves this post to go to Germany.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS IN MARION POSTOFFICE

Miss Sallie F. Barker Observes Anniversary Today.

Miss Sallie F. Barker, No. 397 north State street, celebrated the anniversary of her thirty-fifth consecutive years of service with the Marion postoffice today. Postmaster French Crow is the sixth under whom Miss Barker has served.

Miss Barker is the only member of the staff of Postmaster Bart Tristram, under whom she entered the service March 21, 1887, still employed at the postoffice. She started as a clerk and has worked at the stamp window and in the general delivery, distribution and forwarding department. She is now in charge of the latter department.

Miss Barker served under Postmasters Tristram, Schiller Engelson, J. H. Thomas, J. B. Fisher, M. B. Dickerson, F. T. Campbell, and the present incumbent, French Crow. She was presented with a beautiful bouquet of carnations by fellow employes this morning as a mark of esteem and in honor of the anniversary of her long term of service.

JUDGE MOUSER CONFERS WITH ATTORNEY GENERAL

Regarding Place of Confining Edward Baker.

Columbus dispatches announce that a request has been made of Attorney Price for a ruling as to whether Edward Baker, aged fifteen years, sentenced for life on his plea of guilty to second degree murder, can be confined to the Mansfield reformatory.

In this connection the attorney general conferred at Columbus Monday with Judge Grant E. Mouser, who sentenced the boy to the reformatory because of his youth. Some state officials insist that legally young Baker must be imprisoned in the penitentiary.

TO STUDY ALASKA'S NEEDS ON GROUND

President Not To Act In Matter Until Visit.

Washington, March 21. — President Harding does not intend to take any action toward consolidation of government activities in Alaska, involving the proposed transfer of the Alaskan forests to the interior department, until he has had an opportunity to personally inspect the northern territory, it was officially stated at the White House this afternoon.

President Harding is hopeful of going to Alaska this summer, although the pressure of public business will determine whether it will be feasible to make the trip.

Fire Loss of $100.

A loss of about $100 resulted when the floor in the United Brethren community house, rear of No. 227 south Prospect street, became ignited at about 9:45 o'clock this morning. The call was answered by department No. 1. A furnace set too close to a wooden floor was the cause of the fire.

Conviction Set Aside.

Charleston, W. Va., March 21 — Because "the mob has dictated this conviction," in the view of the court, death sentence imposed upon Harry Latimar, negro, of Mingo county for alleged assault was set aside by supreme court today and Latimar was awarded a new trial.

Orphans Saved in Fire.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 21.—Fire, which broke out at 2 o'clock this afternoon, threatens to destroy the St. Vincent Catholic orphanage for girls. The ninety-seven children in the home were marshalled by attendants and taken from the building in safety.

AMERICA ABANDONS FOREIGN DIRIGIBLES

Will Construct Own Airships Hereafter.

Akron, March 21.—The United States aero department has apparently abandoned further attempts to experiment with foreign built aircraft, according to announcement received at Wingfoot hangar today.

The statement declares that the new dirigible recently tested at the Goodyear plant will be given the birth of the Roma, destroyed in an accident near Langley field several weeks ago. The announcement also is made that officers of the aero department are convinced that recent disasters prove that America must enter an era of construction of air machines. It is intimated that work will be started at once to develop dirigibles of a large type that are safe enough to carry passenger lists.

According to the announcement today, the dirigible built here will leave for McCook field at Dayton within two weeks and from there will be taken to the hangar at Langley field.

The new ship is non-rigid and 170 feet in length instead of 410 feet as was the Roma.

NOT SO EASY NOW TO MILK GOVERNMENT

Alleged Creditors Are Found To Owe More Than Claims.

Washington, March 21.—Collecting money from the government is getting more difficult all the time.

In settling fifty-two claims against the shipping board today, aggregating $3,629,732, it was discovered that instead of the government paying out this amount, the government is due to receive $1,494,411 from the parties pressing the claims.

In going over the claims, shipping board officials discovered that after deducting certain allowances and other amounts, the "claimants" were really "debtors."

The occurrence was characterized by the shipping board officials as a novel one and not likely to occur again.

No Board Meeting.

There was no meeting of the board of education Monday night through lack of a quorum. Only two members were present, M. A. Mickley and Byron E. Wilson.

DECLARE AMERICA IS NINTH IN EDUCATION

Good Government Speakers Attack Educational System.

CHARGE THAT FADS ARE REPLACING THREE "R'S"

Members of Organization Denounce "Fads" as Constituting Peril.

The regular weekly meeting of the Marion County Good Government association was held at the Busy Bee Cafeteria Monday night. A large amount of routine business was transacted and plans for the banquet March 27 were completed. It was voted that Mayor George W. Neely and editors of daily papers be invited to attend as guests of the association.

Several members addressed the meeting on the subject of education. The condition of the rural schools was deplored and the present system of education attacked. Members classified as fads studies which they charged are displacing the three "RS" in the schools of the nation and denounced them as constituting a peril.

Speakers declared there were eight nations ahead of the United States in the matter of education. They pointed out that it is difficult to find a high-school graduate today who can add up a column of figures correctly or construct a grammatical sentence.

The committee on the proposed building code for Marion reported progress. Five new members were initiated.

WITH THE PUGS

Last Night's Fights.

At Sandusky Jack Wolfe, Cleveland, knocked out Eddie Smith, Philadelphia, in the second round.

At Cincinnati Battling Chink knocked out Jean Larue in the third round.

Burman Qualifies.

New York, March 21. By virtue of his twelve-round victory over Midget Smith in Madison Square Garden last night, Joe Burman, of Chicago, today was in line for a bout with Johnny Duff for the bantamweight title. Burman avoided Smith's dangerous right at the same time he was piling up points by inflicting body punishment on Smith. Pepper Martin was disqualified in the third round of his bout with Sammy Seiger, when he struck Seiger low. The show was the last of the winter season in the garden.

Kilbane Leaves for England

New York, March 21 – John Patrick Kilbane, most familiarly known in pugilistic circles as featherweight champion Johnny Kilbane, today leaves these shores bound for England, leaving behind him a host of disappointed featherweight mitt wielders who had hoped to snare the champion into a match. Kilbane expects to be gone about two months. He plans to visit many European countries giving boxing exhibitions. It is just possible that Kilbane may be matched to meet Eugene Criqui, the French boxer, who recently put Charley Ledoux away in one round.

Match Postponed.

London, March 21 – The scheduled boxing match between George Cook and Joe Beckett has been postponed until April 10, it was announced today.

Tentative Games Announced.

Columbus, March 21. Tentative dates for next season's games were made public at a meeting here of the Ohio conference basketball managers association.

The dates are subject to approval by the various colleges and university faculties.

The conferees confirmed the dates for the big six sectional track meets as follows:

Southern division, Cincinnati, May 19 20, Northern division, Case, May 20.

The annual Northeastern Ohio intercollegiate meet will take place at Case on May 20, also.

MARSEILLES CHURCH CIRCLE HAS MEETING

Township Sunday-School Convention Is Held.

Marseilles, March 21. (Special.) The Marseilles Methodist Episcopal church circle met Thursday afternoon at which time Lewis Hanhart presided. The meeting was opened by singing "Jesus Calls Us." Miss Wilma Pritchard gave a recitation and the topic for discussion was "Twentieth Century Demands of Equity." Mrs. C. F. Pace discussed "The Sunday School in Education." J. R. Riley also addressed the meeting. The Sunday school in Business and Mrs. Ira Dunlap discussed "The Sunday school in the Home." Rev. L. R. Minton gave an address and special music was furnished by the York Street quartet of the Presbyterian Sunday school of Marseilles and the Wesley chapel.

The last number of the Marseilles lyceum course was given Friday evening in the M. E. church by James A. Burns, of Oneida Institute, Kentucky. The lecture was well attended.

Lewis Manhart, teacher of the seventh and eighth grades here, has resigned. His position has been taken by Miss Hazel Habarger, of Forest.

The Rainbow circle of the Presbyterian church held its monthly meeting Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Mazel Cohn. The time was passed in knotting comforts. A social was enjoyed and the hostess served refreshments.

SCOUT NEWS

Entertains Troop No. 5.

Troop No. 5, Boy Scouts were entertained informally by Scoutmaster R. A. Wagner at the Y. M. C. A. building Monday evening in celebration of his birthday anniversary. A number of songs were sung by the troop and light refreshments were served. Scoutmaster Wagner was presented with a handsome leather belt, with a silver buckle. The presentation was made by Karl Lust, troop scribe. Before receiving the belt the scoutmaster was presented with another surprise package by Ned Harrod of the Beaver patrol. When opened the package was found to contain a lemon.

BOWLING

Off Night for Tourney

Toledo, March 21.—It looks like an off night for heavy counting in the American Bowling congress tourney here tonight. There are two full squads of thirty two teams rolling but none is doped as capable of tearing its way into the big ten.

Toledo, Port Clinton, Ohio, Oshkosh, Cleveland Canton, Reading, Columbus, Massillon, Dayton, Springfield, Ohio, Chicago and Olean, New York, are the cities with representative teams on the schedule.

No teams on either shift last night was able to bang its way into the select leader class, though several had a fighting chance after good getaway games. They fell however, well before the battle ended. Colonial Coals of Columbus, headed the field with a 2835 total. Other high team totals were Ohio State Journal, Columbus, 2843, Naegel commission, Milwaukee 2831, Dorothy G., Columbus 2818, and Hearn Machine, Columbus 2821.

Masonic Temple Sold.

Chicago, March 21.—The Masonic Temple building, one of the first sky-scrapers in this country and perhaps the most "sold" building in the world, was bought by an unnamed purchaser for $3,100,000, about $1,000,000 more than it cost. Scarcely a week has gone by that some innocent person from the "sticks" wasn't "sold" this building by some city schemer, but the latest sale is a bona fide one.

Ford Increases Force.

Detroit, March 21.—The Ford Motors company announced an increase of 20 per cent in its force. The announcement came as a direct answer of Henry Ford and his son, Edsel, to the appeal of the American Legion for jobs for ex-service men and was made effective at once. Ex-service men and women will be given preference in all cases wherever possible.

Postoffice Bill Passed.

Washington, March 21.—The postoffice appropriation bill, carrying $286,773,000, was passed by the senate, after a heated fight. The measure carries $63,809,000 more than as passed by the house. $50,000,000 of the increase going for federal highway aid.

Warden Fears Bandits.

Ossining, N. Y., March 21.—Warden Lawes of Sing Sing prison, who believes in locking stable doors before the horses are stolen, told his employes that the carrying of payroll money from bank to prison was too risky in these days of banditry and that in the future they would be paid by check.

Republicans Elect Congressman.

Augusta, Me., March 21.—John E. Nelson, Republican of this city, was elected by an estimated plurality of 6,000 over Ernest L. McLean, Democrat, to succeed Federal District Judge John A. Peters as representative to congress at the special election in the Third Maine district.

Wiedfeldt May Be Named.

Washington, March 21.—Acceptability of Dr. Otto Ludwig Wiedfeldt, former managing director of the Krupp organization, as ambassador to the United States was indicated by a high administration official. Inquiry by the Berlin government as to the acceptability of Dr. Wiedfeldt was received by the state department and the matter was laid before President Harding. The favorable reply of the United States is expected to be transmitted to Berlin soon.

TO THE POINT

Property damage estimated at nearly $500,000 was done by fire to a dozen business and apartment buildings at Elmira, N. Y.

M. de Courcel, counsellor of the French embassy at Constantinople, has been appointed to the Washington post.

Loss estimated at $250,000 resulted when fire ruined the Liberty Theater building in McKeesport, Pa.

MAINE ELECTION MAKES BOTH PARTIES GLAD

Republicans and Democrats in Washington Pleased.

Washington, March 21.—Both Republicans and Democrats are well satisfied with the result of the special congressional election in Maine, in which the Republicans won by a plurality, estimated at 6,000, their chief spokesman said today.

"The returns show," said Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic national committee, "that we cut down the Republican majority by forty per cent. Considering that the third Maine district is Blaine's old home and a rock-ribbed Republican stronghold, I consider the result very satisfactory. Also the Republicans here had the benefit of organization and money while we were handicapped to some extent in that direction."

John Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee, was equally "satisfied."

"The vote was light," he said, "and we won by a substantial majority. We are well pleased."

Charged With Murder.

Mount Vernon, Mo., March 21.—Charges of murder in the first degree were prepared today against Robert Stemmons, attorney, and Raymond and Lavanus Jackson, alleged to have attacked Attorney J. B. Tillman in the court-room here and inflicting injuries from which he died. Stemmons and Raymond Jackson, who are out on bail under a felonious assault charge, were to appear in court today to answer to the new charge, according to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Arthur Hopkins Barker.

Aged Woman Strangled.

Chicago, March 21.—Mrs. Mary Jade, seventy-one years old, was found strangled to death in her rooming house here today. Her body was marked by numerous blows.

Pyles as Colombia Envoy.

Washington, March 21.—President Harding has selected former Senator Samuel H. Pyles, of Washington state, to be minister to Colombia, it was announced at the White House this afternoon.

Arbuckle Loses.

San Francisco, March 21.—District Attorney Brady lost his fight to have Edward W. Brown, a member of the jury selected to try Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle a third time for manslaughter, removed from the jury for alleged bias. Superior Judge Louderback today denied his motion for the right to exercise a peremptory challenge to remove Brown, and ordered state and defense to proceed to the selection of the fourteenth or second alternate juror.

SOLON WOULD RECOMMIT PACT

bankers and business men at a meeting of the council of foreign relations held at New York City on March 17.

In the stenographic report, Cravath was quoted as stating that he had been informed by every member of the American delegation to the conference that "such a degree of understanding" had been reached between the United States and Great Britain, that "both sides assume that in all future emergencies, they can count on having the closest co-operation."

Senators Lodge and Underwood, as members of the American delegation, joined in denouncing the alleged Cravath statement as "unqualifiedly and infamously false."

"There is not a word of truth in it, so far as I know," said Underwood.

"If I were not on the floor of the senate, I would use much stronger language with reference to it."

Declares Story Is False.

Washington, March 21.—Secretary of State Hughes branded today as "absolutely false" the charge made in the senate that the United States and Great Britain entered into a secret understanding aimed at Japan during the Washington conference.

In a letter he addressed to Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, Hughes declared that "we have no secret understandings or agreements with Great Britain in relation to the four-power treaty or any other matter."

The Hughes letter, which Lodge read into the record as soon as the senate reconvened, was the result of a statement attributed by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, to Paul D. Cravath, prominent New York lawyer, and one of counsel for J. P. Morgan & Company, that the United States and Great Britain had made a secret pact in order to keep a whip hand over Japan with an Anglo-American fleet in the Pacific and the Far East.

Lodge also read a long telegram from Cravath in which the New Yorker declared that the charge was "astounding" and that he had been misquoted by the Idaho senator.

Hughes' Letter.

The Hughes letter was as follows:

"Washington, March 21:

"My dear senator:

"I notice that the latest charge in the course of the debate over the Yap treaty is that there is a secret agreement or understanding between this government and Great Britain with respect to Pacific matters. Any such statement is without foundation. We have no secret understandings or agreement with Great Britain in relation to the four-power treaty or any other matter.

"In my letter to Senator Underwood on March 11th in relation to the four-power treaty, I said:

"'There are no secret notes or understandings.'

"Permit me to express the hope that the American delegates will be saved further aspersions upon their veracity and honor.

"Faithfully yours,

(Signed.)

"Charles E. Hughes."

"To Honorable Henry Cabot Lodge."

Senator Borah was quick to challenge the denials of both Hughes and Cravath.

The Idaho senator read copious excerpts from a printed pamphlet intended for private circulation which he explained bore the title "Proceedings of the council on foreign relations—comments upon the conference limitation of armaments and Far Eastern questions."

The title page, Borah stated, bore the following:

"Presiding John W. Davis, former ambassador to England; speaker, Norman H. Davis, former under secretary of state; discussion led by Paul D. Cravath, held at the hotel Astor—New York City—February 17."

Secret Pact Denied.

Paris, March 21.—The allegation made at Washington that Marshal Joffre concluded a secret Franco-Japanese treaty for the exploitation of Siberia during his recent visit to Tokyo was formally denied by the French foreign office today.

Prepares To Fight Foes.

Washington, March 21.—Secretary of State Hughes was today preparing to meet senate opposition to the naval treaty with the same weapons he used to aid the fight for the four-power pact, it was learned on high authority today.

Forewarned that certain senators will direct their onslaught against the section of the naval pact providing for status quo of fortifications in the Pacific, the secretary will be ready with facts and figures to prove the United States has not been put at an unfair advantage. All facts concerning Pacific fortifications have been carefully compiled by army and navy intelligence officers and despite the fact that the four-power pact is not yet out of the way, they are before the secretary in proper form for submission.

Should certain senators carry out their threat to demand a statement as to British and Japanese strongholds in the Pacific, Secretary Hughes will follow his previous course and send a communication to one of the senatorial members of the American delegation setting forth the exact status of the various powers in the Pacific. In this case, the letter probably would be addressed to Senator Lodge.

President Opposed.

Washington, March 21. — Suggestions that the constitution of the United States be changed in order to permit majority ratification of treaties by the senate do not meet with President Harding's approval.

The president informed callers this afternoon that he does not believe the constitution should be changed in this respect and he believes the two-thirds majority necessary to treaty ratification should be the rule.

PRESIDENT HAS LARGE PROGRAM

is expected to have a salutory effect abroad. For one thing, a cabinet officer said today, it would serve notice upon the European governments that this government does not intend to "haggle" with them over the matter. This fact will be further impressed upon them shortly in the notes which Secretary Hughes is preparing to send them. The attitude of the state department is that it would be "unbecoming" of the United States to be drawn into a petty controversy over a matter in which American rights are so clearly established.

The cost of upkeep for the occupational troops are guaranteed under the armistice terms and made a first mortgage on Germany's indemnity payments under the Versailles treaty. Therefore, if the allies are disposed to question America's right to payment, then no other recourse was left but to order the troops home, officials said, particularly in view of the fact that the troops were left there only at the express request of the allied governments.

potamia under the mandate awarded by the league of nations. In his memorable notes on this subject, Secretary of State Hughes established the principle of "equal rights for all" in mandated territory.

Then the British claimed monopolistic rights under an alleged agreement entered into between the Turkish Petroleum company, a British corporation, and the old Turkish government before the war.

The American correspondence established this "agreement" as being merely an exchange of letters between the company and the Turkish government in which no commitments had been made on either side.

tools, it was pointed out, in protest against the road's policy of letting out shop work to private contractors.

The shop crafts are restless, labor leaders said, because of the delays experienced in getting cases through the railroad labor board and this restlessness has been increased by some roads openly flouting the authority of the board. An epidemic of "outlaw" strikes on the railroads particularly on those which like the Erie run through coal country, would add greatly to the seriousness of the coal tie-up.

DODGE BROTHERS USED CARS

AND OTHER MAKES.

Do you know you can take a Dodge Brothers car that has gone 25,000 miles or more—take the motor down, put in new piston rings and pins, take up all bearings, grind valves, inspect the transmission and differential, adjust and put in new grease, pull all wheels, clean bearings and repack with grease and adjust and replace all worn shackle bolts and spring bolts and bushings, tighten all parts, reline the brakes, rebush front axle and steering connections, put on new tires or a new top covering if necessary, then enamel the body and paint the chassis—then after all this you will have a mighty good Used Car that will give another 25,000 miles of continuous good service? This is a fact, but buy the car from a reliable dealer and make him guarantee it.

RADIO SUPPLANTS ABOUT EV ERYTHING ELSE IN POPULAR FAVOR THESE MODERN DAYS

Sister has forgotten all about bobbed hair and galoshes. She now sits on the roof and "eavesdrops on the nation." Verily, the radio "bug" has supplanted everything else in point of popularity. It has become the rage of America. You see Sergeant Lawrence W. Bock, radio operator at Fort McPherson, listening to concert singing by Galli Curci. Army camps are hearing things now. Baby Helen Nairns, of Jersey City, New Jersey, also gets "an ear full."

BAKER PLEADS GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER TODAY

Returned from Mansfield and Permitted To Change Plea.

YOUTH IS GIVEN AN INDETERMINATE TERM

In the Mansfield Reformatory. Change Is Made at Instance of Judge Mouser.

Edward Baker, sentenced to life imprisonment in the Mansfield reformatory on a charge of murder in the second degree, was again returned from there today on the motion of Judge Grant E. Mouser. He was represented by his Attorneys Joseph Williamson and L. E. Myers and given leave to change his plea of guilty to murder in the second degree and entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter. The plea was accepted by Judge Mouser who sentenced the youth to an indeterminate term in the reformatory. Baker was before the judge at the noon hour, being brought here by a guard from the reformatory who returned with him at 1 o'clock.

Mayor Hylan Offered Bribe?

New York, March 21.—Mayor Hylan sprung a big sensation at a legislative hearing at city hall today when he revealed that it had been intimated to him before his reelection that if he would not run again, he could join a law firm at a salary of $50,000 a year. The mayor did not disclose the name of the firm.

Carload of Whisky Seized.

Cleveland, March 21.—Forty-eight cases of bonded whisky, valued at $17,000, concealed in a freight car loaded with lumber from Savannah, Georgia, were seized by police this morning and six men, engaged in unloading the booze and placing it on a truck, were arrested.

The giraffe seems to be disappearing from its natural haunts in Africa. A few years ago it was quite common to encounter them in herds of 80 or 100, but now herds of 20 seem to be the average.

LAW HAD BIBLICAL SANCTION

West Virginia Mayor Couldn't See Where Autoist Had Any Reason for Complaint.

Law founded on the Bible is good enough for Mayor Gilmore of Morgantown, W. Va. A local man charged with not having the tail light burning on his automobile was arraigned before the mayor, who assessed a fine of $3.

The accused protested, said that it was a poor law under which he was fined and that he did not think it would hold water in court.

The mayor declared any law founded on the Bible was good enough for him. The defendant said he couldn't see where a tail light had anything to do with the Bible. The mayor looked pityingly at the accused and said:

"Do you remember the tale about the ten virgins, five of whom had lights and five of whom didn't? Well, if you do, you will remember that the Lord wouldn't have anything to do with the five without lights, and neither will this court."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, March 21.—Wheat today opened ¼ to ½ lower; corn ⅛ to ⅜ off and oats firm. Provisions inactive. Opening.

Wheat—May, 1.33 to 1.37½; July 1.20⅜ to ¾; September, 1.12¾.

Corn—May, 61⅝ to ½; July, 64-⅜ to ¼; September, 66¼.

Oats—May, 35⅜; July, 40⅜.

With stop loss selling prevalent and support lacking, wheat prices dropped sharply on the board of trade today. Weakness in the spot situation and at Winnipeg, were inducements to selling. Liquidating sales featured corn trade and prices slumped. The oats market was weak and trade sluggish. Close:

THIS WORK HORSE GETS AIR THROUGH A FALSE NOSE

"Mike," a Cincinnati work horse that many years ago suffered an injury to his breathing facilities, now uses a false "nose" for inhaling and exhaling. He manages to "get the air." The brass "nose" connects with his windpipe and lungs, a fine meshed screen just inside the opening preventing insects from entering his lungs. The owners of "Mike" expect he will continue to "get the air" for several years to come.

The STRANGE CASE of CAVENDISH

By RANDALL PARRISH

AUTHOR OF "THE DEVIL'S OWN" "MY LADY OF THE NORTH" ETC.

COPYRIGHT BY RANDALL PARRISH

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I. — Frederick Cavendish, New York man of wealth, receives a letter from an old friend, Jim Westcott, urging him to come at once to Colorado. Deciding to go, he employs a lawyer, Patrick Enright, to draw up a will leaving most of his estate to charity, with a mere pittance to John Cavendish, his nephew and only relative, a dissolute youth. That night Frederick Cavendish is murdered in his apartments. No will being found, John Cavendish inherits the estate.

CHAPTER II.

Mr. Enright Declares Himself.

One month after the Cavendish murder and two days after he had dispatched a casual, courteous note to John Cavendish requesting that he call, Mr. Patrick Enright, of Enright and Dougherty, sat in his private office on the top floor of the Callander building in Cortlandt street waiting for the youth's appearance. Since young Cavendish had consulted him before in minor matters, Mr. Enright had expected that he would call voluntarily soon after the murder, but in this he was disappointed. Realizing that Broadway was very dear to the young man, Enright had made allowances, until, weary of waiting, he decided to get into the game himself and to this end had dispatched the note, to which Cavendish had replied both by telephone and note.

"He ought to be here now," murmured Mr. Enright sweetly, looking at his watch, and soon the expected visitor was ushered in. Arising to his feet the attorney extended a moist, pudgy hand.

"Quite prompt, John," he greeted. "Take the chair there—and pardon me for a moment."

As the youth complied Enright opened the door, glanced into the outer room, and gave orders not to be disturbed for the next half-hour. Then, drawing in his head, he closed the door and turned the key.

"John," he resumed smoothly, "I have been somewhat surprised that you failed to consult me earlier regarding the will of your late cousin Frederick."

"His—his will!" John leaned forward amazed, as he stared into the other's expressionless face. "Did—did he leave one?"

"Oh! that's it," the attorney chuckled. "You didn't know about it, did you? How odd. On the night of his death I drew up his will. Incidentally, I am the only one living aware that such a will was drawn. You see my position?"

Young Cavendish didn't; this was all strange, confusing.

"The will," resumed Mr. Enright, "was drawn in proper form and duly witnessed."

"There can't be such a will. None was found."

"Possibly not," said Enright with quiet, sinister gravity. "It was probably destroyed and it was to gain possession of the will that Frederick Cavendish was killed."

John leaped to his feet, his face bloodless: "My God!" he muttered aghast, "do you mean to say——"

"Sit down, John; this is no cause for quarrel. Now listen. I am not accusing you of crime; not intentional crime, at least. If an accident happened, that was your misfortune. I merely mention these things because I am your friend. Such friendship led me first to inform you what had happened over the phone. I realized that Frederick's hasty determination to devise his property elsewhere was the result of a quarrel. I believed it my duty to give you opportunity to patch that quarrel up with the least possible delay.

"I have, it is true, performed an unprofessional act which, if known would expose me to severe criticism. There is, however, no taint of criminal intent upon my conduct and, no doubt, my course would be fully vindicated were I now to go directly before the court and testify to the existence of a will."

"But that could not be proved. It has never been found."

"Quite true—or rather, it may have been found and destroyed. It chances however, that I took the precaution to make a carbon copy."

"Unsigned?"

"Yes, but along with this unsigned copy I also retain the original memoranda furnished me in Frederick Cavendish's own handwriting. I believe from a legal standpoint, by the aid of my evidence, the court would be very apt to hold such a will proved."

He leaned suddenly forward, facing the shrinking Cavendish and bringing his hand down hard upon the desk.

"Do you perceive now what this will means? Do you realize where such testimony would place you? Under the law, providing he died without a will, you were the sole heir to the property of Frederick Cavendish. It was widely known you were not on friendly terms. The evening of his death you quarreled openly in a public restaurant. Later, in a spirit of friendship, I called you up and said he had made a will practically disinheriting you. Between that time and the next morning he is murdered in his own apartments, his safe rifled, and yet the only paper missing is this will, to the existence of which I can testify. If suspicion is once cast upon you, how can you clear yourself? Can you prove that you were in your own apartments, asleep in your own bed from one o'clock until eight? Answer that."

Cavendish tried, but although his lips moved, they gave utterance to no sound. Enright scarcely gave him opportunity.

"So, the words won't come. I thought not. Now, listen. No living person—not even my partner—has been informed of what has occurred. The witnesses, I am sure, did not know the nature of the paper they signed. Frederick Cavendish had this will executed in a moment of anger and devised his estate to a number of charities. He had no thought of immediate death, but merely desired to teach you a lesson. He proposed to disappear—or at least, that is my theory—in order that he might test you on a slender income. I am able to look upon the whole matter from this standpoint, and base my conduct accordingly. No doubt this will enable us to arrive at a perfectly satisfactory understanding."

"You mean that you will maintain silence as to the will?"

"Absolutely; as a client your interests will always be my first concern. Of course I shall expect to represent you in a legal capacity in settling up the estate, and consequently feel it only just that the compensation for such services shall be mutually agreed upon."

"And your fee?"

"Reasonable, very reasonable, when you consider the service I am doing you, and the fact that my professional reputation might so easily be involved and the sums to be distributed, which amount to more than a million dollars. My silence, my permitting the estate to go to settlement, and my legal services combined, ought to be held as rather valuable—at, let us say, a hundred thousand. Yes, a hundred thousand; I hardly think that is unfair."

Cavendish leaped to his feet, his hand gripping his cane.

"You damned black——"

"Will!" and Enright arose also. "Not so loud, please; your voice might be heard in the outer office. I said my services would cost you a hundred thousand dollars. Take the proposition or leave it, Mr. John Cavendish."

"But—but," the other stammered, all courage leaving him, "I haven't the money."

"Of course not," the threat on Enright's face changing to a smile. "But the prospects that you will have are unusually good. I am quite willing to speculate on your fortunes. A memoranda for legal services due one year from date—such as I have already drawn up—and bearing your signature, will be quite satisfactory. Glance over the items, please; yes, sit here at the table. Now, if you will sign that there will be no further cause for you to feel any uneasiness—this line, please."

Cavendish grasped the penholder in his fingers, and signed. It was the act of a man dazed, half stupefied, unable to control his actions. In a way it was a confession of guilt, an acknowledgement of his fear of exposure, yet he felt utterly incapable of resistance. Enright unlocked the door, and projected his head outside, comprehending clearly that the proper time to strike was while the iron was hot.

Calling Miss Healy, one of his stenographers, he made her an official witness to the document and the signature of John Cavendish.

Not until ten minutes later when he was on the street did it occur to John Cavendish that the carbon copy of the will, together with the rough notes in his cousin's handwriting, still remained in Enright's possession. Vainly he tried to force himself to return and demand them, but his nerve failed, and he shuffled away hopelessly in the hurrying crowds.

* * * * * * * *

As Francois Valois trudged along the night streets toward his rooming house he came face to face with a trim young woman in a smart blue serge. "Oh, hello!" she cried pleasantly, bringing up short. Then seeing the puzzled look upon the valet's face, she said: "Don't you remember me? I'm Miss Donovan of the Star. I came up to the apartments the morning of the Cavendish murder with one of the boys."

Valois smiled warmly; men usually did for Miss Donovan. "I remember," he said dolorously.

The girl sensed some underlying sorrow in his voice and with professional skill learned the cause within a minute. Then, because she believed that there might be more to be told, and because she was big-hearted and interested in every one's troubles, she urged him to accompany her to a near-by restaurant and pour out his heart while she supped. Lonely and disheartened, Valois accepted gladly and within half an hour they were seated at a tiny table in an Italian cafe.

"About your discharge?" she queried after a time.

"I was not even asked to accompany Mr. Frederick's body," he burst out, "even though I had been with him a year. So I stayed in the apartment to straighten things, expecting to be retained in John Cavendish's service. I even did the work in his apartments, but when he returned and saw me there he seemed to lose his temper, wanted to know why I was hanging around, and ordered me out of the place. Flung money at me, he did, told me to get out, that he never wanted to see me again. Since then I have tried for three weeks to find work, but it has been useless." (To be continued.)

While she gave him a word of sympathy, Miss Donovan was busily thinking. She remembered Willis' remark in the apartments, "Are you sure of the dead man's identity? His face is badly mutilated, you know;" and her alert mind sensed a possibility of a newspaper story back of young Cavendish's unwarranted and strange act.

"Mr. Valois," she said kindly, "would you mind if I asked you a question or two more?"

"No," the man returned.

"All right. First, what sort of a man was your master?"

Valois answered almost with reverence:

"A nice, quiet gentleman. A man that liked outdoors and outdoor sports. Best of all, he liked to spend his evenings at home reading."

"Not much like his cousin John," she ventured with narrowing eyes.

"No, ma'am. God be praised! There's a young fool for you, miss, crazy for the women and his drinking."

"I understand that he was dependent upon Frederick Cavendish."

"He was, miss," Valois said disgustedly, "for every cent."

"Did they ever quarrel?"

"I never heard them. But I do know there was no love lost between them, and I know that young John was always broke."

"Girls cost lots on Broadway," Miss Donovan suggested, "and they keep men up late, too."

Valois laughed lightly. "John only came home to sleep occasionally," he said; "and as for the women—one of them called on him the day after Mr. Frederick was killed. One of those tall blondes with a reddish tinge in her hair. He likes that kind."

Miss Donovan started imperceptibly. This was interesting; a woman in John Cavendish's apartment the day after his cousin's murder! But who was she? There were a million carrot-blondes in Manhattan. Still, the woman must have had some distinguishing mark; her hat, perhaps, or her jewels.

"Did the woman wear any diamonds?" she asked.

"No diamonds," Valois returned; "a ruby, though. A ruby set in a big platinum ring. I saw her hand upon the knob."

Miss Donovan's blood raced fast. She knew that woman. It was Celeste La Rue. From what Miss Donovan knew of Miss La Rue, she did not ordinarily seek men; therefore there must have been a grave reason for her presence in John Cavendish's apartments immediately after she learned of Frederick's death. A thousand speculations entered Miss Donovan's mind.

"How long was she in the apartment?" she demanded sharply.

"Fifteen or twenty minutes, miss—until after the hallman came back."

"Have you told any one else what you have told me?"

"Only Josette. She's my fiancee. Miss La Baum is her last name. She questioned me about losing my job, and her questions brought things into my mind that I might never have thought of otherwise. And at last I came to believe that it wasn't Mr. Frederick who was dead at all."

Miss Donovan's eyes dilated with eagerness and amazement.

"Not Frederick Cavendish! Mr. Valois, tell me—why?"

The other's voice fell to a whisper. "Frederick Cavendish, miss," he said hollowly, "had a scar on his chest—from football, he once told me—and the man we laid out, well, his body was a bit burned, but had no scar on his chest."

Miss Donovan sprang suddenly to her feet.

"Mr. Valois," she said breathlessly, "you come and tell that story to my city editor, and he'll see that you get a job—and a real one. You and I have started something, Mr. Valois."

And tossing money to cover the bill on the table, she took Valois' arm, and with him in tow hurried through the restaurant to the city streets on one of which was the Star office, where Farriss, the city editor, daily damned the doings of the world.

Farriss, for once, was enthusiastic.

"A great lead! By the Lord, it is! Now to prove it, Stella"—Farriss always resorted to first names—"you drop everything else and go to this, learn what you can, spend money if you have to. I'll drag Willis off police, and you work with him. I'll give you a week—when you've got something, come back!"

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SPRING.

[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]

[Copyright 1922, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

Once upon a time Uncle Wiggily hopped away from his hollow stump bungalow to have an adventure.

"Please be very careful," begged Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Why so?" asked the bunny rabbit, twinkling his pink nose.

"Oh, I can't explain, but I have such a queer feeling today," went on Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I feel just as if something would happen!"

"Well, something nearly always happens when I have an adventure," laughed Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, but you will be careful, won't you?" begged the muskrat lady. "Please promise me!"

So Uncle Wiggily promised, and away he hopped. Over the fields and through the fields he went. He saw only some little patches of snow here and there, and the wind was blowing warm from the south.

"It is queer," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, "but I, too, feel rather strange, as Nurse Jane did. I wonder what it is?"

However, he couldn't find out by standing still and twinkling his pink nose, so he hopped on again, looking this way and that way for an adventure.

"Where are you taking me?"

Then Uncle Wiggily heard a rustling in the bushes, and he was thinking perhaps Jackie or Peetie Bow Wow might be scrabbling out, when, all of a sudden, there was a loud noise and a voice cried:

"Now I have you!"

With that the Fuzzy Fox caught Uncle Wiggily by the back of the bunny's neck, and, before the rabbit could do anything or say anything, the Fox had popped him into a bag he carried and away he ran with Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, dear me! This is dreadful," thought the bunny. "Nurse Jane was right! Something has happened!"

But Uncle Wiggily was brave and didn't give up easily, so he wiggled until he had his head sticking out of the bag as it was slung over the shoulder of the Fox, and then the bunny gentleman called out:

"Where are you taking me?"

"Off to my den, of course to nibble your ears," chuckled the Fox. "I've been waiting a long time to get you and at last I have!"

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear! Oh, woe is me!" sighed the bunny.

There he was in a sack, with only his head sticking out, and the Fox was carrying him away. But, all of a sudden, as he rode thus, Uncle Wiggily felt a strange feeling coming over him. The wind blew warmer from the South and seemed to be melting the last patches of snow.

"Oh, I have such a funny feeling—so stretchy like!" said Uncle Wiggily, and he stretched so hard that before he knew it, one of his front paws came out of the bag and he had hit the Fox behind the ear.

"Hi there! What are you doing?" howled the Fox, looking around, but still running along with the bunny. "What are you doing?"

"Oh, I don't know what makes me act this way," answered Mr. Longears. "But I feel so queer—so stritchy stretchy!" And he wiggled and got his other front paw out of the sack, hitting the Fox on the back of his head.

"Look out what you're doing!" barked the bad chap. "You're hanging me!"

"Oh, am I?" asked Uncle Wiggily, innocent like and indifferent. "It must be my stretchy feeling! Oh surely something is going to happen, I think!"

He stretched again, and one of his hind feet came out of the bag and kicked the Fox.

"Oh, I say! Be careful, will you?" barked the Fox.

"I'm being as careful as I can!" answered the bunny. "What do you want me to do?"

"Keep still!" snarled the Fox.

"Oh, I just can't!" laughed the bunny. "I feel so queer and happy-like and stretchy!" And he wiggled again, this time getting his other hind leg out of the bag and he kicked the Fox once more.

"Hold on! This is enough!" shouted the Fox.

"Yes, this is enough!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I'm all out now and you can't catch me!" and away he ran so fast that the Fox was left far, far behind.

"Why, Uncle Wiggily, what happened to you?" asked Nurse Jane, as the bunny came running up to the bungalow.

"I don't know," he answered. "I never felt so stretchy in all my life! I just stretched right out of the bag of the Fox."

The muskrat lady looked at the calendar hanging on the wall.

"No wonder!" she laughed. "This is March the twenty-first—'tis spring! The little birds begin to sing! No wonder you felt stretchy, Uncle Wiggily, and I felt as if something would happen. It did! Spring has come!"

And so it had!

Burial In Coshocton.

Cleveland, March 21.—The body of Harold Edwin Bechtol, former Cleveland newspaperman, who died in New York, Sunday, will be taken to his old home at Coshocton for burial, it was announced here. Bechtol was European manager for the Newspaper Enterprise association during the World war. He was thirty-two years old and had been ill several weeks with diabetes.

WORN OUT AFTER SHE COOKED A MEAL

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Read the Result

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back pained all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out if I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."—Mrs. CHRIST. PETROFF, 318 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains no harmful drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

"Come on, Alice, you know Mother said we are going to have Kellogg's Corn Flakes for lunch. And that's the kind I like to eat about a whole box of, because they ain't tough to eat! Come on an' hurry up!"

Kellogg's Corn Flakes

are a taste thrill at meals or any time

That's because Kellogg's Corn Flakes are so deliciously flavored—the Kellogg flavor that is known all over the civilized world! You, as well as the little folks, can eat great bowlfuls of Kellogg's Corn Flakes day after day—and each sunny-brown, crispy, crunchy spoonful thrills the taste as though it was the first!

Put Kellogg's in comparison with imitation corn flakes! Kellogg's Corn Flakes are never tough or leathery or hard to eat! They are all-the-time crisp, all-the-time good! Don't miss such enjoyment!

Insist upon Kellogg's in the RED and GREEN package that bears the signature of W. K. Kellogg, originator of Corn Flakes! NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT IT!

Rheumatism at 60

S. S. S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

How glorious you will feel, mother, when your rheumatism is all gone. Let S.S.S. do it. It will build you up too!

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight. The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body; limping and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars! Does anybody care? S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight. Mother, if you can not go out to get a bottle of S. S. S. yourself, surely somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S. S. S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe, maybe it's your mother! S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

GOD'S WAY

The International Sunday-School Lesson for March 26 Is a Quarterly Review—Psalm 130.

[BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.]

All history, it has been said, is but the prolonged shadow of a man. For three months the Sunday-school millions have been studying the rise and fall of the northern kingdom of Israel, and mostly in terms of individual men and women. What a vivid portrait gallery they make—Jeroboam, the reformer who was not great enough to wear a crown rightfully; Ahab, the strong man who was ruled by his wife, the wicked Jezebel; Elijah, the hairy prophet of the wilderness; who defied the king and queen and vanquished the priests of Baal; his successor, Elisha, the townsman who was ever a helper of people and a worker of miracles; General Naaman, the Syrian, and his Hebrew slave girl, and Gehazi, the grafter, servant of Elisha; and Jonah, the narrow-minded prophet; and Amos, the working man who held up the loftiest conception of Jehovah to his nation; and a miscellaneous assortment of kings and other human background.

At the end, as at the beginning of the entire life of this nation, which existed for more than 200 years, we find the personality of the man who was able to lead the oppressed workingmen in revolt, but not adequate to the greater task of being the sort of king the hour needed. If Jeroboam made Israel a nation he also unmade it.

When the Leader Fails.

A deal of ancient history is wrapped up in this lesson; and some of it is to be found in the translations from the cuneiform records of Assyria. Our first interest, though, is in the one man, Jeroboam, who, 200 years before the overthrow of Israel by Assyria, had succumbed to ambition, and to the desire for popularity and power, and so had led his countrymen to follow the fashions of the heathen. All through the ages since, on the pages of history, Jeroboam has worn the brand "who made Israel to sin." What a fate and what a failure!

Horrible indeed is the offense of the man or the woman who is a corruptor of the public. In the Jeroboam class we must put the present-day purveyors of demoralizing motion-pictures, dances, music, literature and other amusements.

Dead in the flesh, deathless in infamy, King Jeroboam still cries aloud the warning that every person must be a helper or a hinderer of his fellow men.

"There are but two kinds of persons in the world, I ween,
The persons who lift, and the persons who lean."

No nation can survive too heavy a percentage of Jeroboams—and in modern politics their name is legion. It takes many prophets and true, and uncounted loyalty and godly citizens, to overbalance the evil effect of the Jeroboams who mislead the public. By the character of its officials, and the trend of its life, the fate of a nation may surely be determined. Do you remember the prophecy of the ancient British Queen Boadicia—

"Rome shall perish! Write that word
In the blood that she hath spilt!
Perish; hopeless and abhorred!
Deep in ruin and in guilt!"

Perhaps I am obsessed with this major theme of the rise and fall of nations, the lesson is one learned by personal travel over the ruins of all the great empires of antiquity. Nothing is clearer to even the most superficial observer of history than that no nation can permanently survive the deterioration of the morals of its rulers and its people. The Sunday-school lessons of the past quarter have the clear support of the experience of the ages in declaring that Israel could not continue to live if she repudiated the righteousness which is a consequence of loyalty to Jehovah.

Deaf to Prophet Voices.

Russia collapsed because the autocracy was deaf to all the prophet warnings of the nation. The privileged classes had their ears filled with the varied music of pleasure. They thought that what had been would continue to be. Germany had clear warnings from within and without before she embarked upon her imperial adventure of aggrandizement. Austria also heard, but heeded not, a continuous cry from oppressed people. If I press the analogy further, I shall be accused of writing politics.

The point is clear; and it is the message of this lesson:—"Listen to the best voices of the time. Had Israel heeded her prophets she would not have been crushed into oblivion. Individually, we may ask ourselves whether we are open-eared to the jazzed clamor of a pleasure-pursuing people, or whether our hearing is sensitive to the still, small voice of external spiritual verities. Nowadays everybody knows that the upper air is filled with voices that bear great messages and great music; only most of us are not allowed to hear it.

Perhaps the prophets for whom we long are already in our midst, speaking from pulpit and platform and press; but we, like Israel of old are deaf to their message. Hearing ears are as necessary to a prophet's work as speaking lips.

The Mongrel Samaritans.

Punishment in kind was visited upon Israel, after the nation had repeatedly spurned the wooing voice of God. The people chose to follow the fashions of their neighbors in the worship of false gods; and no prophet word or deed could win them from it. So their fate was to become amalgamated with the heathen. Some of them were carried off to Assyria, others who remained had colonies of idolaters planted in their midst, so that the Israelites mingled with them, and the mongrel Samaritan population resulted.

Anybody who has visited the Samaritan community at Nablus and has made some investigation of their character, can understand how the results of such commingling with and compliance to the heathen are deplorable. The surviving Samaritans are an ignoble lot, respected by nobody. They are a warning to our own nation against an infusion of alien blood and ideals and religion that will destroy our distinctive character. The queer sentimentality which would turn the nations of North America into the world's almshouse has never read the history of Israel. We are to serve mankind, not by losing our own identity and becoming mongrels, but by preserving our character as a "peculiar people" God's missionary among the nations.

So our need, like ancient Israel's, is not for the ways and worship of the neighboring nations who despise simplicity and sincerity, but our present desperate need, in public office and in private life, is for moral courage, religious fidelity and true loyalty to the great integrities of faith in a living God.

HERE'S COMFORT!

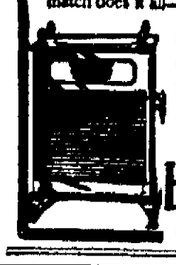
Reznor Gas Heaters are comfort makers. Sitting in the rosy glow of one of these little heating marvels is like taking a sun bath. It fairly wraps you round with golden light and saturates you with genial warmth.

REZNOR GAS HEATERS

"Quick heat for cold rooms"

are an economical solution of the home heating problem at those particular seasons of the year when furnace heat is burdensome. And for rooms too far from the furnace to be easily warmed, they are fine.

Don't suffer with the cold; a Reznor Gas Heater, lighted a few moments will give any room the balmy air of June. Just a stroke of a match does it all—no fussing and poking at a balky furnace—and when you are done, turn a key and the fire's out.



We'd like to have you see these wonderful heaters. They are the Original Copper Reflector Gas Heaters. We know you'd appreciate them. Come in and let us show you.

Can You Solve This Movie Puzzle?

On the Movie Screen above are the names of 10 Movie Stars rearranged. The operator played a joke on the audience, and you'll admit it was a good one.

TO SOLVE THE PUZZLE, rearrange the letters in the funny sentences on the screen so that they will spell each actor's or actress' name. For example: No. 10 is Betty Compson. If you can name all ten stars you can win the Oakland car or $1,000.

Probably you know the names of the most popular stars, but just to refresh your mind we are mentioning below a few of the most famous players: Douglas Fairbanks, Betty Compson, Elsie Ferguson, Norma Talmadge, Antonio Moreno, Charlie Chaplin, William Russell, Gloria Swanson, Anita Stewart, Richard Barthelmess, Katherine MacDonald, Irene Castle, Dorothy Dalton, Harold Lloyd, Eugene O'Brien, Irving Cummings, Wallace Reid and Mary Pickford.

185 "Points" Wins First Prize

You will receive 10 "Points" toward the Oakland Touring Car or the $1,000 for each name you arrange correctly, or 100 "Points" if you arrange all 10 names correctly. You can gain 50 "Points" more by qualifying your answer. This is done by proving you have introduced HOME FOLKS, an interesting and educational magazine for the Home, to five people. The final 35 "Points" will be awarded by three judges, not connected with this company, to the person making up the nearest correct list of words from the initials of the first and last name of each Movie Star. But DO NOT send in your list of words now. Send us your answer to the Puzzle first and we will write and tell you how to get up your word list.

Costs Nothing to Try—You Can Win

You will not be asked to subscribe to HOME FOLKS or spend a single penny of your money in order to win. We merely want your help in introducing Home Folks to five of your friends. Just write your answer to the Movie Puzzle on one side of a sheet of paper and PRINT your name and address in the upper right hand corner. The answer gaining 185 "Points" will win the Oakland or the $1,000. There are 25 big Prizes in all. In case of a tie, all tieing contestants will receive the same prize. Do your best and you can win. Contest closes May 27, 1922. Answer the Puzzle NOW and send your answer to:

IRENE BORDONI in one of the gowns she wears in "The French Doll," her latest play, in New York. Irene is French, of course, and is making the biggest success of her career in her present role. But there's another reason for printing her picture—it might strike a fashion note for women readers.

PRESIDENT HARDING plays a round of golf at Palm Beach, visiting the famed resort for a few hours on the last leg of his vacation in Florida. (Int.)

LOUIS JOSEPH, known on the stage as "Frisco," famous jazz dancer, is suing Constance Talmadge, screen star, for $100,000. He alleges that she used in a film some of his stage "business." If Constance stole any of Frisco's steps she can be counted as right clever.

DR. ADOLF LORENZ, Austria's ambassador of mercy, pictured after he conducted his last New York City clinic, completing his work of treating more than 1,000 children. He is shown with 'Lucky Jimmy' Maby, a six-year-old boy he saved from a lifetime of suffering as a cripple. Little Jimmy was selected from hundreds of children last December. His case seemed hopeless, but Dr. Lorenz transformed his clubbed feet into those of a normal child. (N. Y. Am Photo.)

USING A NEW TYPE MONOPLANE, Cliao Rheden, Chicago, hopes to fly from New York to Paris. His machine, he claims, will make 250 miles an hour, traveling 3,600 miles without a stop on 200 gallons of gas. It took him seven years to build it. (Int.)

AL DEVORMER.

FRANK O'DOUL.

PROMISING YANKEES—Two members of the New York Yankees are making strong bids for regular jobs. Al DeVormer, a second string catcher, is looming up for more work than he did last season, and Frank O'Doul a pitcher purchased from the Vernon Club of the Pacific Coast League, is doing fine work at the training camp.

1,300 CASES OF SCOTCH WHISKEY, valued at $250,000, were seized; a two-masted schooner, the Viking, out of Gloucester, was confiscated, and twenty members of what is believed to be a powerful rum-running ring were captured in New York after a gun fight in which seven men were injured. The bootleggers resisted the several Federal agents who rushed upon them, but were subdued after much clubbing and many revolver shots, and landed in jail (N. Y. Am.)
